Racing Notes And Turf Gossip

(BY "MORNING DEW")

I am quite sure that with the Seventh Extra Meeting less than a fortnight away, many people are anxious to know something of what is happening at the course.
Entries close to-morrow, but even before they are published it is easy to see that fields will be on the big side. There is every likelihood of some keen racing and with the big st sweep due to be drawn, many people are looking forward to the next meeting with keen enthusiasm.

THE AUSTRALIANS

One of the best races on the card should be the five furlongs for "A" Class Australians. The field should be very classy, as the following are likely to go to the post: Bronze Era (Mr. Davis), Just That (Mr.
Soares), Atlas (Mr. Deltz), High
Finance (Mr. Botelho) and Bobnik
Star (Mr. Butler). Racing Heart
(Mr. Heard) is not likely to start here, as I understand it is thought that the distance is too short for this candidate, who incidentally has improved tremendously in the hands of Mr. Heard. Able Amazon too is standing down for Bobnik Star from the same stable.

JOCKEY SHORTAGE

There will be a distinct shortage of jockeys this half, and in this connection it is to be regretted that Mr. Harriman is at present indisposed and will not be able to ride on September 22. I am certain it is the hope of all racegoers that he will soon regain his health and make a re-appearance on the course, where he is extremely popular. Mr. A. L. Caplan, who has abstained from racing for quite some time will be back in the saddle and Mr. Davis, also, is going to appear regularly at our race meetings.

SUBS AUTUMN PLATE

Readers will be interested to know that Tiny Star will not be among the contestants for the Subs Autumn Plate. This pony will not be back in time from Shanghai to be prepared for the race. Some of those with strong claims for this classic event are as follows:—Cavalcade (Mr. Deltz), Copper Idol (Mr. Caplan), Soldier of Fortune (Mr. Botelho), Classic
Hall (Mr. Pan) and Young Chap
(Mr. Butler). On present condition, I have no hesitation in predicting a win for Cavalcade, with Classic Hall and Copper Idol next. Mr. Botelho will have a lean chance of pulling it off on Soldier of Fortune, but this jockey has the knack of turning up when least expected, so if you are out for a big dividend, watch him!

GIFT FOR ELECTRIC STAR

The Big Wave Bay Handicap for griffins which have won less than $2,000 appears at the moment a gift for Electric Star, an "A" Class candidate. There seems to be no opposition against him, unless Soldier of Germany does the trick.
TOO LATE FOR RACING

Talking about ponies which will not be in time for this race meeting,
I think the whole of the "Dynasty" candidates will not be racing.
They will be back from Shanghai shortly, but I doubt very much if they can be prepared in time.
King's Justice and Hetman, however will probably race in the Double Tenth Plate on October 10.
More about this later.

BOXING EVE GOOD

Not having seen the entries it is difficult to make any predictions for the "C" and "D" Class events.
I hear that Boxing Eve will be going out in the novices event (Junk Bay Handicap—6 furlongs for "D" Class). The pony will be put in the hands of Tang Man Wa, who undoubtedly is one of our best novices. He should start a warm favourite. Talking about novices reminds me that Captain Jordan made a fine race to win with Festival Eve in Macao. Racegoers would like to see more of this promising jockey on the local course.

NEW SUBS DUE

Eighty new subscription-griffins will be arriving in Hong Kong on board the ss Nanning which will come in either to-day or first thing to-morrow morning. The Australian subscription griffins which were drawn for some time ago are showing good promise and some of those which did not look too good upon arrival are now beginning to put on a new appearance. A notable case is that of the cream pony drawn by Messrs Mackie and Grayburn. The pony is now quite a good-looker. With regard to the subs arriving to-day, I hear that one owner is offering 1,000 to 30 against all the ponies in the Valleys.

LOOKING AHEAD

The St. Leger and Autumn
Champions are still some time off, but no doubt people will be wondering what the prospects are for these races. As regards the griffins, Electric Star, Hydroplane, Bright View and one of the several "Soldiers" should provide a good race. Prima Donna is not too fit at the moment, but in any case I do not expect her to do the distance. With regard to the Champions, Liberty Bay, Diana Bay and Trentbridge are not qualified to start. There should be a close race between Soldier of Britain, Sadko, Hetman and King's Justice. The Australians' "Leger" will, I suppose, fall to Able Amazon, but if reports which I have heard are correct, the pony will have a tough time against Racing Heart and Bronze Era.

DOUBLE TENTH PLATE

I said I would say more of the Double Tenth Plate, so here goes.
Soldier of Britain will have a strong claim for the race, but he will find in the field Cossack's Beauty, King's Justice, Hetman and Sadko.
What a race it will be if the condition of the course is not against fast times! Soares will ride Cossack's Beauty, Deltz will be on Soldier of Britain, Heard on King's Justice and Botelho on Hetman.
Sadko will be under Caplan.

Next week when the entries are known, I shall comment on the prospects of the "C" and "D" Classes, and for the present will content myself by saying that Ribble, Daylight Eve, Valorous, Flying Tourist and The Tiger are extremely fit. These candidates should be prominent.

EXPEDITION TO GRAHAMLAND

Party Leaves London

London, Sept. 10.
The British Grahamland Expedition, under the leadership of Mr. John Rymill, to-day left St.
Katherine Dock, London, in the schooner Peqdola.

The Prince of Wales is Patron of the Expedition, which is being undertaken with assistance from the government and the support of the Royal Geographical Society.
Its members include several widely experienced Polar explorers.

The British Government have ordered the Discovery II to help in establishing a base for the Expedition, which intends to undertake a sledge journey of probably more than 1,000 miles across an entirely unknown region in Grahamland.

Farewell messages wishing success, and safe return to the Expedition were sent by the Secretary for the Colonies, Sir Phillip Cunrode, and Sir Henry Battersbee, Chairman of the Polar Committee.

GIGANTIC DAM

Opened Last Month
In Madras

Madras, Aug. 22.

The Mettur Dam, one of the largest in the world, was opened yesterday by Sir George Stanley, Governor of Madras.

At the same time it was announced that the King had approved that the honour of knighthood be conferred on Mr. Clement Tudway Mullings, C.S.I., Indian Service of Engineers (retired). Mr. Mullings was chief engineer of the project from 1927 to 1931.

The dam, which is the largest block of masonry in the world, has cost more than £4,500,000 to construct. The cement alone cost £700,000.

It will irrigate an area of 1,300,000 acres—including 300,000 acres at present unirrigated.

Threat From Flood

In 1934 the work was threatened by an unprecedented flood. This necessitated a revision of plans and the revised scheme has a more extended scope. Apart from this, the original estimates have not been materially exceeded.

An important part in the early completion of the dam was played by the three huge crushing plants supplied by Messrs. Hadfield of Sheffield. The plants dealt with blocks of stone weighing as much as three tons.

These were first broken by giant jaw-type breakers, the largest of their kind ever made in Britain. The broken fragments were then handled by the secondary breakers and finally by the crushers.

SENIOR LAW LORD

Man Of Extremely Rapid Speech

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 23.

The choice of Lord Blanesburgh, the Senior Law Lord, to preside at a conference on international law at Budapest early next month is an appropriate compliment to one of the ablest exponents of international law in this country.

Admittedly, too, Lord Blanesburgh is among the foremost exponents of our own law; but it has been said that he has a "non-concurring mind."

One characteristic is his remarkable rapidity of speech. Mr. Justice Eve once had to implore him to "have mercy on the shorthand writers."

His political convictions have always been something of a mystery. One recalls the incident of his brother, the late Lord Younger, whose choice was never in doubt, being asked whether his brilliant legal brother was a Radical.

He replied: "Robert always talked so fast that none of us could keep up with his advanced opinions. So, perforce, we all became Conservatives."

IMPERIAL DEFENCE COLLEGE

New Commandant Appointed

London, Aug. 23.

The War Office announces that Colonel (temporary Brigadier) R. H. Haining, D.S.O., has been appointed Commandant of the Imperial Defence College, with effect from January next.

The headship of the Imperial Defence College changes every two years in order that each of the three Services may supply the Commandant within a comparatively short period. Admiral L. G. Preston, the present Commandant, is the second naval officer to hold the post, and Brigadier Haining will be the second from the Army. Lieutenant-General W. E. Bartholomew having been the first. Brigadier Haining is Deputy Director of Military Operations and Intelligence, and is an authority on Imperial defence and the coordination of naval, military, and aerial questions. He was at Upington and Woodville, and joined the Royal Artillery in 1901. He was at the Imperial Defence College in 1927.

JAPAN'S CIVIL AVIATION

Regular Air Service
To Be Expanded

In view of the fact that Japanese civilian aviation is far behind that of foreign countries, the Communications Minister, Mr. Tokonami, is to effect improvements.

As the first step towards the realization of his idea, the Communications Minister is planning to expand the regular air services. From 1936, three new air routes, namely, Osaka—Tottori—Matsuyama—Tokushima—Kochi Lines are to be opened, and for this purpose about Yen. 230,000 is to be included in next year's budget. These enterprises will be subsidised for ten years.

There are also plans to extend air routes up to Saghalien from Tokyo, and down to Singapore from Formosa, thereby connecting with the present air line from Singapore to Australia. Fares between Tokyo and Osaka are also to be cut down from Yen. 30 to Yen. 20.

EXPLORER TO WED

Flight-Lt. N. H.
D'Aeth

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 23.

The engagement is announced of Flight-Lt. Narbrough Hughes D'Aeth, who was a member of the British Arctic Air Route Expedition of 1930-31, for which he received the Polar Medal. He is to marry Miss Mary Colbeck Davis, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Davis, of Edgely, Torquay.

Flight-Lt. D'Aeth, who is the second son of Capt. R. Hughes D'Aeth and the late Lady Nina Hughes D'Aeth, of Ashurst, Lyndhurst, Hants, was in charge of the flying section of the Arctic Air Route Expedition. The purpose of the expedition was to "explore the Arctic ice-cap of Greenland, with a view to establishing a route across the Arctic to Canada. Mr. H. G. Watkins, who later lost his life in Greenland while continuing his survey work, was leader of the expedition.

Flight-Lt. D'Aeth's mother was a daughter of the second Earl of Cranbrook and aunt of the present Earl. His father was at one time governor of Parkhurst Prison.

VISITORS TO ENGLAND

Marked Increase
This Year

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 23.

The returns of foreign visitors to England show a marked increase. The July returns, excluding weekend and day excursionists, show an increase of about 5,000 on the previous July. The biggest increase is naturally in the countries where the exchange is most advantageous to the visitor.

The French figures are 11,637, being 1,701 more than in last July. German visitors are up by 395, Belgian by 223, Dutch by 461, and Swiss by 150, but, although the exchange now runs against them, the United States holiday-makers are increasing—13,533, an increase of 893 on last July.

Only the Hungarians and the Italians have decreased. The Scandinavian countries have sent 595 more people.

The number of Chinese was 82 and of Japanese 10, which hardly cover the comings of their diplomats and inquirers. Russians are still shy about submitting their sensibilities to the gentle capitalism of these islands. There were only 921 Russians last July, but even that is an increase of 22.

Foreigners do not occupy the same importance in our August streets, and Fleet Street, which is the avenue to the Cathedral of St. Paul's, where all tourists go, does not now cover under the eyes of the world as it used to do when the street was a procession of motor-coaches with megaphone-men booming out their tales about Dr. Johnson and Thackeray, and the centre of the world's news. But the tourist from other parts of England still makes his pavement busy in August and brings profits

LAMB AND COLERIDGE

Centenary of Deaths Recognised

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, August 23.

It is fitting that the governors of Christ Hospital should recognise the centenary of the deaths of Charles Lamb and Samuel Taylor Coleridge, which falls this year. The essayist and poet were contemporaries at Christ's from 1782 till 1789. The celebration is to take the form of a luncheon in the autumn, when orations will be given by Mr. John Masefield, the Poet Laureate, before a large assembly of notable figures in the sphere of literature. Relics of the two famous men of letters and of the hospital as they knew it are to be exhibited. Plans are proceeding for the erection of a statue commemorating Lamb's long association with the Temple, where he first saw the light of day.

SIR MILES LAMPSON

Will Be Absent
From Cairo

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 23.

The Foreign Office makes the following announcement:—

Sir Miles Lampson, having accumulated leave due to him, will be absent from his post at Cairo for some time, and, in view of the illness of the Counsellor, Mr. Ronald Campbell, it has been decided to send Mr. Maurice Peterson, head of the Egyptian Department of the Foreign Office, to take charge of the High Commission during his absence. Mr. Peterson will reach Alexandria on or about September 4.

Sir Miles Lampson reached his new post directly from China on January 8. He left Egypt on January 17 by Imperial Airways for London to kiss hands on his appointment, and returned to Cairo again by air in February since when he has remained at his post in Egypt. Sir Miles has thus taken no home leave since 1932. It will be remembered that he had actually started for England in January of that year when he heard of the outbreak of fighting at Shanghai, and immediately returned to Nanking. On February 12 he reached Shanghai, where after long and difficult parleys with the combatants he found the formula which made agreement possible. He left for England on vacation in June, 1932, and returned to China in the autumn.

Mr. Maurice Peterson, who will take charge of the High Commission in Egypt during Sir Miles' absence, has been head of the Egyptian Department of the Foreign Office since 1931. He has already acted as High Commissioner in Cairo, where he was First Secretary from 1927 to 1929. It is expected that Mr. G. H. Thompson, till recently First Secretary to his Majesty's Legation at Santiago, will take Mr. Peterson's place during his absence of several months in Egypt.

REICHSMARK RETURN

Berlin, Sept. 9.

The Reichsmark statement for September 7 issued on Monday shows relaxation of the tension in as much as considerable credit repayments were effected since the previous statement. Gold stock remained unchanged at 74.9 million Reichsmarks, while holdings in foreign currencies increased by 0.2 million marks to 3.8 millions, making a total in note-cover increase of 0.2 millions to 75.7 million Reichsmarks.

The note issue stood at 115.0 millions to 3708.9 million Reichsmarks. The amount of credit issued as measured by bills, cheques, advances and investments decreased 180.9 million marks to 384.3 million marks.

MORE GOLD FROM THE EGYPT

Years Of Daring Rewarded

(Special Air Mail Service)

Plymouth, Aug. 23.

Gold bullion valued at approximately £162,000 from the sunken liner Egypt, which has been salvaged by the Italian steamer Artiglio, was landed at Plymouth to-day. This practically completes the recovery of the gold from the Egypt.

Yesterday's consignment included:

38 bars of 400 ozs.
44 bars of 100 ozs.
13 bars of 37½ ozs. and 15,000 So. rergina.

On the present trip the grab brought up the door of the bullion room, and divers found a sovereign which had been embedded in the thick steel by pressure of the water.

In the "past" two years specie worth £800,000 has been recovered by divers, but this year the task became increasingly difficult owing to the collapse of the wreck. To-day's consignment represented two months' hard work.

Amazing Triumph

"The Artiglio will be leaving tonight on what will probably be the last chapter of a story of an amazing triumph over obstacles that were thought to be insurmountable. The story began when, in 1922, the P. & O. liner Egypt foundered after a collision off Ushant, with specie worth £1,000,000 in her strong rooms. Many lives were lost.

She lay 400 feet below the surface, beset by strange currents and close to the remains of scores of other wrecks. Experts smiled when the question of salvage was raised. Even when an Italian company was formed to endeavour to recover the bullion the best terms that could be arranged with Lloyd's, who had paid the insurance on a total loss, was a "No cure, no pay" basis.

$800,000 Recovered

Years were spent endeavouring to locate the wreck. Funds began to run low, but still the efforts persisted until the "Egypt" was found. Then attempts were made to find the strongroom in the wreck. Decks were blown away by charges of dynamite, and one misplaced explosion wrecked the first Artiglio herself, and cost several lives.

At last, when capital was practically exhausted, the roof of the bullion room was stripped, and the special robot-diving apparatus was put to work.

Since then, working only when tides and currents have been favourable, the Artiglio has brought into Plymouth gold and silver bars worth, as stated, £800,000.

VACATION JUDGE

Deals With Urgent Matter

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 24.

Mr. Justice Crossman, the vacation judge, recently dealt with an urgent matter at London Bridge Station.

When not holding his weekly public court, a vacation judge is always liable to be thus waylaid by some anxious lawyer, seeking his assistance.

A certain judge—Mr. Justice G. Wright—once made an order in a railway carriage.

Lord Brampton was cornered on Brighton pier.

Two solicitors in a punt disturbed Vice-Chancellor Mallins while he was bathing in the river at Maldenhead.

Mr. Justice Eekford, afterwards Lord Stenford, decided a matter on horseback at Epsom.

The best-known case, however, was that of the late Mr. Justice Bucknill, who granted an interim injunction while pheasant shooting.

When asked in court some time later if he remembered this episode, he replied: "Yes, I do, because I nearly killed a pheasant, a barnard, and a collector with one shot."

"GLAMOUR"

At The King's Theatre

One little-known theory as to the best means by which a woman may acquire a glamorous personality is expounded in "Glamour," Universal's drama based on "the eternal triangle" which is now showing at the King's Theatre.

Constance Cummings and Paul Lukas play featured roles in this absorbing screen play, while Phillip Reed is seen at the other point of the love triangle which develops, completely changing the lives of all the people concerned.

As the story opens Miss Cummings, a chorus girl, worms herself into the affections of Lukas, composer of uniformly successful musical plays, and the song writer eventually devotes all his talents to the advancement of the girl, bringing about her elevation to stardom in his plays. Finally the two are married, and the young wife becomes the reigning success of the New York stage, happily wed to the man of her heart. At length, however, Reed is engaged as her leading man, and, soon afterward the two fall in love with each other with the broken hearted husband pretending indifference in order to preserve his wife's happiness. Reed and Miss Cummings go to London together and are married, and it is now the wife who subordinates herself to further the success of her mate.

A NEW CARTOON

Paramount is shortly to bring out a new and brilliant invention in the cartoon world.

Mr. J. C. Graham, managing director of Paramount in England, who has just returned from America, after conferring on new productions, has seen the first of them and is full of enthusiasm.

These new cartoons, says Mr. Graham, are drawn by Max Fleischer, the brilliant creator of "Betty Boop" and "Popeye the Sailor" and are made in a new colour process which is stereoscopic. The first one to be issued will be "Cinderella."

"I saw this just before leaving America," adds Mr. Graham.

Warner Brothers First National

PROGRAMME FOR 1934-35

Sixty featured pictures will be released by Warner Brothers First National during the season 1934-35 for which period the largest production budget in the history of the company has been allowed according to the announcement of Mr. Harry M. Warner, President of Warner Brothers First National.

To-date, 839 contracts for new productions totalling $2,500,000 have been sold, Mr. Warner said. "We have never been so fully prepared in advance of a new selling season as we are this year," he said. "Already we have a total of 47 stories ready for early production, with casts that will include the strongest array of acting talent, and of names, in the annals of Warner Bros. and First National."

"We have found subjects of universal appeal. The 47 stories already include published novels, and stories of recognized merit, original stories written directly for the screen and based upon actual life, and the most successful plays of the international stage."

Among the outstanding productions planned are "Anthony Adverse," "Sweet Adeline," "Oil for the Lamps of China," "Firebird," "Gold Diggers of 1935," "War Lord."

The production roster currently includes 19 stars, 38 featured players, 18 directors and 73 writers.

The 47 screen stories, including originals, stage plays, novels and short stories, published and unpublished, for the 1934-35 season comprise the following:—

War Lord, the story of a Chinese war lord with a modern Oriental background.

The Skipper of the Isaphan, an adventure story of the China seas.

Farewell to Shanghai, co-starring Dolores Del Rio and Franchot Tone in a romance of the Far East.

Oil for the Lamps of China, based on the best seller by Alice Tisdale Hobart.

Casino de Farge, with Al Jolson heading an all-star cast in a musical comedy-drama.

Firebird, based on the international stage success, by Lajos Zilahy.

Men Against Death, based on the life of Louis Pasteur.

Gold Diggers of 1935, a new musical comedy spectacle with an all-star cast.

Roadhouse, adapted from two stories by Arthur Somers Roche.

The Magnificent Ambersons, from the American novel by Booth Tarkington.

Sweet Music, a sequel to the musical, "20 Million Sweethearts."

I'm Back in the Chain Gang, a sequel to "I am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang."

Ride 'Em, Jockey, a comedy-drama of the racetrack.

The Ginch, with the Boulder Dam project as the setting.

The Six-Day Bike Race, a Joe E. Brown comedy.

Halfway to Heaven, a comedy-drama by Lawrence Hazard, author of "Man's Castle."

Babbitt, from Sinclair Lewis' famous novel, with Guy Kibbee and Aline MacMahon.

The Little Big Shot, the story of a small-timer with big ambitions.

Anthony Adverse, from the novel by Hervey Allen.

Sweet Adeline, a musical based on the Broadway stage hit.

Border Town, starring Paul Muni in a romance of the dividing line between the United States and Mexico.

Earthworm Tractor, another Joe E. Brown comedy, with Brown as Alexander Botts, familiar Saturday Evening Post character.

Air Devils, an aviation thriller teaming James Cagney and Pat O'Brien.

Go Into Your Dance, from a story by Bradford Spores, author of "42nd Street" and probably starring Al Johnson.

Ill Sell Anything, comedy-drama.

The Story of a Country Boy, from the best seller by Dawn Powell.

"and it was really remarkable the way the figures stood out. The process is not photographic. It is, I think, achieved in the application of colour."

Travelling Saleslady described as "a spicy bit of present-day Americana."

A Present From Margate, adapted from the London stage play by Ian Hay and A. E. W. Mason.

Kansas City Princess, a comedy now in production with Joan Blondell.

Lafayette Escadrille, a romance of love and warfare by the author of "The Dawn Patrol," John Monk Saunders.

King of the Ritz, being the adventures of a chef and his press agent.

Window Panes, starring Jean Muir.

The Perfect Week-End, starring James Cagney.

A Lady Surrenders, with Jean Muir.

George Brent and Verree Teasdale featured.

Big Hearted Herbert, from the current Broadway success, with Guy Kibbee and Aline MacMahon.

Black Hell, a story of the coal mines, with Paul Muni.

Captain Blood, from the Rafael Sabatini sea novel.

A Lost Lady, from the novel by Willa Cather.

Applesauce, a comedy.

The Case of the Howling Dog, from Erle Stanley Gardner's Liberty Magazine detective thriller.

The case of the Curious Bride, another by Mr. Gardner.

Concealment, a problem play.

Just Out of College, the adventures of five graduates.

Lost Beauty, an ultra-modern love story.

School Days, a story of youth.

The 47th title has not been made known.

There are currently 57 featured players on the Warner-First National roster, including 19 stars.

"WHERE SINNERS MEET"

"Cavalcade" Stars in New Film Comedy

"Where Sinners Meet" co-starring Diana Wynyard and Olive Brook in their first appearance since the epic "Cavalcade" is a forthcoming attraction at the King's Theatre. It is a screen adaptation of A.A. Milne's highly popular comedy "The Dover Road" which for many years convulsed audiences in England, America, Canada and Australia.

It was from this play that Britshers coined one of their favorite expressions, "They took the Dover Road" a phrase applied to men who elope with otherman's wives, and women who flee with other women's husbands.

The Dover Road is the main highway from London to the port of Dover and so is the most important route to Paris, where speedy divorces are possible and where "the benefit of clergy" is not considered too important.

In "Where Sinners Meet," Brook portrays a Mr. Latimer, a wealthy and whimsical man who converts his home on the Dover Road into an inn. By devious methods he manages to virtually imprison eloping married couples and teach them the error of their ways. As a reward for his meddling he is finally caught in his own trap.

Billie Burke, Reginald Owen, Phyllis Barry, Walter Armitage, Katharine Williams, Robert Adair and Vernon Steele are in the featured cast. J. Walter Ruben directed.

FLICKERS FROM HOLLYWOOD

The first of the new pictures on the RKO Radio 1934-35 programme is "THE FOUNTAIN," starring Ann Harding, with Brian Aherne and Paul Lukas.

Miriam Hopkins, Joel McCrea, Fay Wray and Reginald Denny are cast in "THE RICHEST GIRL IN THE WORLD," which is now under production by RKO Radio.

"THE GAY DIVORCEE," an RKO Radio Picture, starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, is considered the outstanding musical sensation of the new season. In fact, on the Radio lot, the opinion is that it is the greatest musical since "RIO RITA." Besides a new ball-room dance called "THE CONTINENTAL" which will surpass in popularity even "THE CARIOCA," there will be an Adagio Dance in Chorus, with twelve teams performing this thrilling spectacle. Song-hits will include "Night and Day," "Needle in the Haystack," "Knock-Knees," "Don't let it Bother You" and "The Continental."

Conrad Nagel has been signed by RKO Radio to play the lead in "DANGEROUS CORNERS," with Virginia Bruce, the former Mrs. John Gilbert. This will be Conrad Nagel's first screen role for some considerable time.

"SPRINGTIME FOR HENRY"

With Otto Kruger

"Springtime For Henry," an uproarious comedy of a modern Don Juan's romantic adventures, will make its appearance on the screen of the King's Theatre on Thursday. Benn W. Levy, the author of the play, was brought to Hollywood to rewrite the story for Fox Film. It is reported that the picture, because of the screen's large scope, is even funnier than the play.

The picture deals with the hectic life of Henry Dewlip (Otto Kruger), a modern young bachelor whose adventures are chiefly concerned with two women. Nancy Carroll is one of the pursuing young ladies in the film. Heather Angel, the charming young English actress, portrays the role of the other woman. Others in the cast are Nigel Bruce, Herbert Mundinn, Arthur Hoyt and Geneva Mitchell.

Produced by Jesse L. Lasky, the film was directed by Frank Tuttle who collaborated with Keene Thompson in fashioning the screen play.

MAE WEST'S DOUBLE

There are two Mae Wests in the world to-day. One of them is making pictures and the other is in England on so circumstances appear to prove!

Croydon aerodrome was full of excitement when it was heard that the "Come Up and See Me Sometime" star had arrived in the plane from France. Everybody crowded round the exits... autograph books were hastily pulled out... people were ready to dash through the crowd just to say a word to the Paramount star.

She came out and was whisked away in a car, but not before the crowd had recognised her as Mae West. She was blonde, she wore those clothes she had that walk and she had those curves.

Immediately the news went all round London that Mae West had arrived and was staying at an hotel under the name of Mrs. —. The Paramount's London Headquarters was besieged with inquiries. An hotel manager almost convinced Paramount that it was Mae West. But Mae West is making pictures in Hollywood.

Incidentally, the real Mae West is soon to receive a present from Brighton!

The Publicity Committee of Brighton is going to present her with a framed poster, the one which has created such a storm all over England. This poster, which bears the words "Come Down and See Me Sometime" is to be hung in Miss West's apartment!

EDNA MAY OLIVER ASPIRES TO DO A FILM ROLE

That Will Allow Her To Dance

Edna May Oliver, who portrays the detective-schoolmarm in the comedy mystery, "Murder on the Blackboard," considers the role one of her best to date. It would be perfect, she says, if only it afforded her an opportunity to dance.

"Ever since I have been in pictures I have been waiting to play a role which allowed me to dance," declared Miss Oliver. "I am mad about dancing, you know. Used to do a lot of it on the musical comedy stage. Some of these fine days I am going to dance in a picture, even if I have to write a routine into my role."

"Hildegard Withers," even without the dancing, ranks as one of my all-time favourite characters, however. She's a shrewd old body with a grand sense of humour, and she has a lot of fun poking around in spooky places solving murder mysteries. I hope to get to see much more of her."

Ranking right with the irrepressible Hildegard in Miss Oliver's affections as a character is the Aunt March she played in the classic "Little Women."

"They're" entirely different types, and so I can't place one above the other," the tall comedienne explained. "I adored doing Aunt March. I have always loved costume plays. For one thing, I've got the elongated figure to hang the picturesque period clothes on."

"Some day, I want to do a characterization of Queen Elizabeth. If and when I ever do it, it will be a serious portrayal, lighted, of course, by humour. Don't forget that Elizabeth had a lively sense of humor."

In "Murder on the Blackboard," which centers about the exciting investigation following the slaying of a beautiful young school teacher, Miss Oliver is co-featured with James Gleason. Others in the cast include Bruce Cabot, Gertrude Michael, Edgar Kennedy, Regis Toomey, Barbara Fritchie, Tully Marshall, Fredrik Vogeding, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Tom Herbert and Jack'e Seal.

This RKO Radio film is a sequel to "The Penguin Pool Murder," and is based upon the fiction mystery story by Stuart Palmer. George Archambault directed.

AROUND THE COURTS

FATHER AND SON

For stealing $122.50 from his father, Chung Ping, 19 was bound over in the sum of $100 to be of good behaviour for 12 months by Mr. Wynne-Jones at Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

Det. Sub-Inspector Rozesky stated that defendant lived with his father, Chung Shing, a retired merchant, at No. 20 Nullah Road, Mongkok. At 7.15 p.m. on September 9, Chung Shing left the house and on his return he found that a sum of $122.50 in Hong Kong currency and $3.20 in Chinese currency, which he kept in a box had disappeared. In its place he found a bit from his son, informing him that he had taken the money.

Chung Shing saw his son at the Kowloon Railway Station on Monday and was going up to speak to him when the lad caught sight of him, and ran away. The father gave chase and eventually caught him at the Star Ferry Wharf.

At the Water Police Station, the father said his son had given him a tremendous lot of trouble during the last two years, and he wanted to have him banished from the Colony.

When asked by his Worship whether his son had been giving him trouble, Chung Shing replied in the negative, adding that he had never had any trouble with his son before.

Inspector Rozesky: That's a totally different story from the one he told the police.

POSSESSION OF OPIUM

Before Mr. J. H. B. Lee at Kowloon Magistracy yesterday, Lo Yiu Ming and Lai Tong, alleged to be members of the crew of the Chinese gunboat 'Hoi Shui', were charged with possession of 45 taels and ten taels of raw opium respectively.

Revenue Officer Humphreys said the 'Hoi Shui' arrived from Canton at 6.30 p.m. on Monday and anchored off Shamshui. At 7.30 p.m. the defendants came ashore and, when revenue officers searched them, the contraband was found in their possession.

'I have been instructed by the Superintendent of Imports and Exports to point out the seriousness of the case, as the defendants are a sailor and a stoker of the Chinese gunboat 'Hoi Shui', said R. O. Humphreys. 'We are handicapped by the fact that we have no power to go on gunboats to search for contraband. We have to wait for the crew to come ashore before we can search them.'

It was also stated that Lo Yiu Ming had his opium wrapped up together with a parcel of sweetmeat while the other defendant covered up his opium with a bunch of bananas in order to disarm suspicion.

Lo Yiu Ming was fined $1,350 or six months and Lai Tong was fined $300 or two months.

BENEFIT OF THE DOUBT

An unsuccessful attempt to pass off a cheap ring as gold on the Yee Shuen Pawnshop at No. 303 Lai-chikok Road, had its sequel at Kowloon Magistracy yesterday when Leung Pan was charged before Mr. Wynne-Jones with trying to obtain $5 by false pretences.

Leung Hing was charged with aiding and abetting.

Leung Pan admitted trying to pawn the rings, but stated that he did not know that they were not gold.

In answer to his Worship, Sergeant Poyntz said he had no other evidence to offer against Leung Pan except that he was trying to pawn the rings.

His Worship decided to give this defendant the benefit of the doubt and discharged him.

As regards the other defendant, his Worship said the charge of aiding and abetting would not be appropriate and substituted a charge of procuring Leung Pan to pawn the rings. Defendant was convicted on this charge and sentenced to six weeks.

Appearing before Mr. E. I.
Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday on a charge of allowing a dog out in the street without a muzzle on August 18, at 3.30 p.m., Mrs. D. F. Fletcher, of 1, Knight Street, pleaded that she had on that day arrived from Waihaiwei and had taken over the house and dog. His Worship said: 'That's bad luck, I'll accept your story but will you take care of the dog in future?'

ECHOES OF 1861

65—Criminal Sessions

Charles Mallor and Chew Achaw, who were yesterday convicted of Larceny in a Boat, were this morning brought up and sentenced by His Lordship—the first prisoner to four years penal servitude and the second prisoner to two years hard labour.

Chun Achin—was charged with stealing on the 9th of April last, nine pieces of wearing apparel the property of Lee Ayun, in the dwelling house of the said Lee Ayun.

Lee Ayun—was called, and proved that a girl named Liu-ho resided with her, and on the 9th of April last on witness's return home she found the prisoner, who was nurse in the house, and the girl Liu-ho absent, and on looking about witness found five pairs of trousers and four jackets missing.
—soon after this the girl Liu-ho the armah, and a coolie came to the house—the prisoner carrying a bundle which, upon examination, was found to contain the articles of clothing the witness had missed.

Lee Liu-ho—was called and examined—I live with the last witness, the prisoner had been living a short time in the same house—the day after she came prisoner asked me if I should like to go to Canton—telling me that it was a beautiful place, plenty of sing songs, and other fine sights to be seen there—she said that I could carry away some of my mistress's clothes to pay my passage to Canton—I refused to go, but a short time afterwards prisoner said, come let us go—the steamer is ready; when the prisoner came for me she had a bundle in her hand, but I did not know that it contained clothes—the armah was asleep—I did not take any of my own clothes—we went on board the Canton steamer—prisoner still carrying the bundle—after almost half an hour the armah and the coolie came on board and took me ashore—they also took the prisoner ashore, she still carrying the bundle.

Wang King-yong—the armah was called and proved missing the girl, and with a coolie friend going on board the White Cloud, and bringing the girl and prisoner ashore, the prisoner carrying a bundle, which on being opened was found to contain witness's mistress's clothes.

The Jury found the prisoner guilty and she was sentenced to two years imprisonment with hard labour.

Shik Abdoola—pleaded not guilty to the charge of having by false pretences obtained $40 from Jamseljee Byramjee.

The prosecutor on being called stated, that on the 24th of July, last he was standing in the Hollywood Road with his brother, and saw the prisoner there—he said he had got a 100 rupee bank note and asked witness what he would give for it—witness's brother asked for the note, and prisoner produced a note, and handed it to him; witness offered

$40 for it, and as he cannot read English on under stand the Hindu-stani on the back of the note, he could not see that it was worthless—witness gave the $40 for the note (produced)—on the next day, prisoner went again with more of the same notes, which witness bought; in the afternoon of the same day witness found the notes to be worthless, and went in pursuit of the prisoner—when he found him, he told him that the notes were worthless, and the prisoner said that is not the note I gave you—witness had not any other Caucutta notes in his possession. Byramjee Nussawanjee stated that he resided at Calcutta until about 8 months ago, and that there was no Bank of Hindu-stani there at that time.

Mr. Collins—Chief clerk of the Police Court stated, that until 1810 he resided at Calcutta—that about the year 1830, there was such a bank as the Bank of Hindostani at Calcutta, but that about 1832 it stopped business.

The Jury found the prisoner guilty and he was sentenced to eighteen months hard labour.

Yeong Atoong and Chin Ah-tuck —were charged, the first with having stolen a Revolver Pistol the property of J. C. Saunders, and the second prisoner with having received the same, knowing it to be stolen.

The prisoners plead not guilty.
Mr. Owen appeared for Chin Ah-tuck. On account of the absence of Mr. J. C. Saunders (master of the ship 'Rose') his depositions taken before the magistrate were read—they proved that the first prisoner was boy of the deponent, and that he absconded with the articles.

James Cronin, sworn—I am an Inspector of Police—on the 16th of July last, I had information from Mr. Saunders as to a robbery from him of a Revolver and other articles—he charged his boy with the theft—in the evening, the first prisoner was brought to the Station by the man who had been security for him to Captain Saunders—I went to the premises of Casimbhoy Netibhoy—the first prisoner was with him—we there saw the second prisoner and the first prisoner on seeing him said:
'This man have got Revolver.'

Deen Mahomed—a constable who accompanied Inspector Cronin in deposed that on the first prisoner asking the second prisoner for the Revolver the latter said:
'Give me the money and I will give to you.'

Yeep Ah-yon—a fellow servant of the second prisoner in the employ of Casimbhoy Netibhoy & Co.—proved that the first prisoner brought the revolver to the second prisoner and asking the latter to buy it—who refused—and at the solicitation of the 1st prisoner, second prisoner took charge of the Revolver.

The Jury found the first prisoner guilty, and the second not guilty—the latter therefore was discharged.

...TEN KEYS to Easier, Faster
Adding

On the Sundstrand there is only one key marked with the numeral '1.' This is the only key that can be depressed when '1' is to be entered on the machine. There's no mental selection of columns. No hopping about on the keyboard. The machine does all this automatically!

And it's the same for every figure. One
'2' key, one '3' key and so on. Just ten numeral keys, so arranged that each key is always directly under the correct finger.
Confusion and errors are 'out.' Speed and accuracy are 'in.'

No wonder it takes most people only a day to learn 'touch' figuring on the Sundstrand, without instruction!

No wonder the Sundstrand is popular for retail counters, where easy operation is the keynote, as well as in banks, where speed is at a premium.

THE CHINESE THEATRE

Interesting Talk To Rotary Club By Mr. H. H. Sling

A GLIMPSE INTO HISTORY

An essay written by Mr. H. H. Sling, Secretary of the Rotary Club, while he was an undergraduate at the Yale University, was read by him at the Rotary Club yesterday and proved very acceptable. The essay was on "The Chinese Theatre and its Affinity with the Elizabethan" and contained many facts about the Chinese stage which is little known to foreigners. We give below some extracts of the essay which deals with the Chinese theatre.

No subject in the literature upon China has been more neglected than that dealing with the Chinese theatre. A large majority of the Chinese people are brought up without any appreciable book learning; their trend of thought has however been influenced to a noticeable extent by the drama. An institution which exerts such widespread and telling influence in the life of a nation deserves more than a passing remark in works which profess to be interpretive of that nation.

The theatre in the Chinese towns and cities is housed in the conventional building similar to the ones used for such purposes in other parts of the world. It is not so newly painted, there is no display of polished brasswork, and mirrors and carpets are lacking. This is true only of the exterior, however, for the interior is sumptuously furnished. The building is generally larger than its contemporaries in the chief theatrical centres; we find the customary box office and meet the usual doorman. The photographs and bills present the same familiar sight in the lobby as in other theatres.

There is no need for us to go to the box office since we have purchased our tickets beforehand. This was made necessary because the best class of seats is usually exhausted a long while before the performance. We merely show our tickets to the doorman, who then permits us to enter.

Century Old Stage

The stage is at the farther end of the theatre, being a survival of the type that existed centuries ago. About four feet in height, thirty five feet wide, and fifteen feet deep without curtains, it presents a bare and deserted appearance before the performance.

Our places are in one of the boxes which line the sides of the building about level with the stage. The cheaper seats are wooden benches and are located on the main floor, below us; the cheapest seats are at the extreme rear, where there is also a space provided for those who can only afford to stand. A small ledge about three inches wide is fastened to the back of each seat. This is used as a miniature shelf for refreshments of tea, candy, and cakes, which may be obtained from vendors throughout the theatre.

We discover our box to be a luxurious place. There are two lounges supplied with cushions, each one of which is equivalent to four seats. There are also chairs or stools for our servants, who usually accompany us on these occasions. Soon after our arrival an attendant provides us with tea. This is a compulsory expense and is collected by the ticket taker when he comes for our tickets. Besides this tea we are asked to pay a tax of ten per cent on our tickets which goes to the attendants of the theatre. This is an ancient custom and as old as the theatre itself.

A QUEER ORCHESTRA

Contrary to foreign practice, the orchestra is located on the stage, at the extreme rear. The musicians do not dress in uniforms. They come upon the stage in whatever variety of garb they please; in the summer some come with none except a pair of trousers. This, however, is an extreme case. The important members of the orchestra are those who play a stringed instrument with a bow; they play alone when accompanying a monologue or dialogue.

The speeches and songs are punctuated by the leader of the orchestra, who beats upon a wooden sounding block. At other times, the whole complement of drums, cymbals, flutes and cornets join in the general confusion. At such times, little music is heard, and little is intended. The best music is rendered during the reciting a monologue, or dialogue. The time draws near for the performance to begin. The stage hands bring out a large table and several stately chairs. The table is soon transformed into a court bench by simply covering it with a gorgeously embroidered cloth, which hangs over the front reaching down to the floor. A chair is placed upon a slightly raised platform behind the table for the justice, and the others are arranged below on either side. A sign is hung up to indicate the title of the scene.

Actors Enter

The orchestra begins to play in earnest, for we can detect the pitch rising higher and higher and every place giving forth its loudest sound, until there is a din throughout the house. The gold embroidered curtain hanging over one of the proscenium doors situated at each end of the stage is suddenly drawn aside and the actors enter in a procession. They make a turn or two about the stage, when form in line to render the equivalent to an opening chorus. After this preliminary the play begins. The different characters are usually eliminated from the scene by finding missions for them to attend to in distant parts, and they leave the stage one by one.

Finally the hero and heroine are left alone, the latter is never a woman. The play is taken by a youth, who imitates even the unsteady walk of the once prevalent "bound feet" of the gentleman. By means of a falsetto voice, the portrayal approaches perfection.

Scenery is not used on the Chinese stage. The plays are written for the simple boards of many ages ago. Location of scenes is indicated by the lines and actions of the players, as well as by hanging up a signboard bearing this information. The costumes and furniture also denote the situation of the scene. Flowing beards are invariably worn by officials, patriarchs, and other important personages to denote age and wisdom, while paint, powder, wigs and masks are frequently used.

From The Classics.

Chinese dramas lives in the past. Its plots are based on historical facts or legends. Some are taken from the classics and from literature. The characters are men who are famous in the history of the nation and familiar to most of the audience. Even the carriage of the players conforms to the old practice, where in place of the natural walk, we find a long military stride. For the soldier, a dignified stamp for the nobleman and higher officers and a small mincing step for the woman.

After describing a play in great detail, the essay goes on thus: "The play ends. We notice the absence of applause, although the cries of the vendors throughout the theatre did not subside during most of the time the play was in progress. This lack of applause is not due to the displeasure of the audience. It has never been the custom to applaud the players in Chinese theatres for several reasons: the dislike of the audience to express emotion, the loudness of the orchestra which drowns out most of the other sounds, and the low social position of the actors.

We leave the theatre and return to the reality of the present moment, after reaching back through the centuries and living again with the people of that time. As we view the throng winding their way home, we cannot help thinking that such influence as the drama has exerted upon these people cannot but have its effect upon their lives. Is it not possible that progress has been arrested by continually retreating the steps which have already been taken, without the infusion of plays which concern the present generation? A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker at the end of the address.

CORRESPONDENCE

(All letters intended for publication must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer, not for publication, unless so desired, but as evidence of good faith.—Ed.)

(To the Editor of "The Hong Kong Daily Press")

Sir,—After returning the verdict of "guilty" the special jury strongly recommended mercy. No one except members of the Special Jury know on what grounds they had recommended mercy, but I am personally satisfied that such recommendation would not have been made without careful consideration. The jury did not return their verdict there and then, but retired and deliberated for nearly two hours—and the length of time they took to deliver their verdict certainly suggests that this was not a case where there was a preponderant amount of evidence on one side or the other, but a case of great difficulty.

This strongly is my argument in support of the recommendation. The convicted prisoner is, I understand, a poor man. He has not the means of rousing public feelings in his favour, but none-the-less, deserves equally all the consideration that the authorities can give him.

I trust that the recommendation of mercy, coming from a special jury, will not be overlooked.—Yours, etc.

PROFITEERING IN JAPANESE GOODS

Ceylon To Take Action

Profiteering by dealers in Japanese textiles is understood to have been among the matters considered by the Board of Ministers at Colombo.

No decision was reached, but it is learned that the Minister of Home Affairs reported to the Board that he had instructed the Police to keep a strict watch on the situation and to warn all dealers in Japanese goods that if they sold their articles at enhanced prices, they had no warrant for doing so.

If, in spite of these warnings, they persisted in selling their goods at prices greatly in excess of prices prevailing before the quotas were imposed, it is understood that the Minister of Home Affairs would again report to the Board of Ministers so that the necessary action might be taken.

As regards legislation to deal with the menace of profiteering, it is understood that the machinery for it is now being prepared.

The method that is likely to be employed for enforcing such legislation will be for the Police, on a complaint by members of the public to prosecute the profiteering shop-keeper. Under such a law, all buyers of Japanese goods will be required to obtain receipts for their purchases, so that when they have been overcharged for their purchases, they could complain to the Police who will investigate the complaint and charge the offending dealer.

Provision will be made for dealers found guilty of profiteering to be subjected to fines so heavy as to act as a deterrent.

AT THE MARINE COURT

BOARDING OFFENCE

Cheung Kuen, aged 28 years, described as an unlicensed hawk, appeared before Commander Hole at the Marine Court yesterday morning, charged with boarding the British s.s. Kalgan, last Monday morning without having the permission from the master or the officer-on-duty.

It was stated by the prosecuting officer that the accused was seen walking around the ship and when stopped and asked whether he had got a pass or permit, the accused failed to produce it.

When questioned by his Worship, the accused said that he boarded the steamer in order to sell some fruits, and had nothing else to do. A fine of $10 or in default one week's hard labour was imposed.

MAKING FAST TO A SHIP

For unlawfully making fast to the s.s. Chong Lee whilst she was under way Lam Foo, aged 32 years, mistress of cargo boat No. 3415V, admitted the offence and was fined $10 or one week's hard labour.

PUBLIC MONEY VOTES

More Supplementary Estimates

$149,351 REQUIRED

Supplementary votes totalling $149,351 is to come before the Finance Committee of the Legislative Council to-morrow.

Among the items, particulars of which will be found below, is one for $100,000 in connection with the formation of the dumping ground at Kowloon.

KAI TAK FIRE ENGINE
Air Services: Fire Engine
for Kai Tak Aerodrome, $10,000

It is considered essential that efficient fire-fighting equipment be maintained at the aerodrome and it is therefore necessary to purchase a Morris Six-cylinder Chassis Fire Engine equipped with trussed ladder and a suit of Merryweathers' "Mefisto" Flame-Resisting clothing at a cost of £693, 14s. 0d. = $9,793.41.

Kowloon - Canton Railway:
Materials for Repairs and Renewals $10,000
Police Force: Personal

Emoluments $6,476
With the administration of the Registration of Persons Ordinance, 1934, the following increases in the establishment of the Police Department are required.

One European Sub-Inspector $3,453
One European Police Sergeant $2,427
One Class VI. Clerk (J.C.S.) $ 598
(7 months) $6,476

Public Works Recurrent: Kowloon, Maintenance of Buildings $3,000

It has been found necessary to carry out considerable repairs to many old buildings in Kowloon, largely owing to the ravages of white ants. These repairs, have been more extensive than the usual maintenance for which funds were provided in the 1934 Estimates.

Public Works Recurrent:
Kowloon, Improvements to Buildings $1,500
Many minor improvements to buildings have been effected in Kowloon and further improvements, to the end of the year, are now found to be necessary to the extent of $1,500 in excess of the amount approved to date.

Public Works Recurrent:
New Territories, Maintenance of Lighthouses, $500

The expenditure on repairs to Lighthouses has been higher than anticipated owing to damages caused by white ants. In consequence funds provided to date for maintenance are found to be insufficient to cover the cost of necessary repairs.

DUMPING GROUND

Formation of Dumping Ground at Kowloon, $100,000

It is essential that this work should be completed as early as possible, in order to provide a protected area for dumping the spoil from the dredger now operating off the west side of Kowloon Peninsula. The value of work carried out this year to July 31 amounted to approximately $255,000.

At the present progress the extent of the further work which will be completed at the end of the year is estimated at $145,000 making a total for the whole year: $400,000. Amount voted this year: $300,000. Supplementary vote required: $100,000.

Removal and re-instatement of Electrical Workshop, etc. $4,600

It is considered necessary to carry out improvements to part of the building formerly used as the Royal Naval Canteen at Arsenal Street, so that accommodation therein may be suitable for the P.W.D. Electrical Department's Workshop, which has to be moved from the adjacent building now to be demolished.

Certain alterations and repairs and re-wiring of the whole building are necessary, at an estimated cost of $4,600, which sum includes the cost of the removal of plant, etc.

Maintenance and Supply of Furniture $5,000
Provision made in Estimates, $30,000

Owing to the increase in new supplies of furniture to officers' quarters, etc., during the past few

Drastic Reductions Foreshadowed

COUNCIL AGENDA

The Hon. Sir Thomas Southern, Colonial Secretary, will present the Budget to-morrow, the amount required for 1935 being $26,324,219.

This figure is roughly seven million dollars less than the figure on the original Estimates for 1934, which was $33,342,697.

No details have so far been available.

The agenda for the Council Meeting to-morrow is as follows:—

Betting Tax

The Colonial Treasurer to move the following resolution:—Whereas under section 6 (1) of the Betting Duty Ordinance, 1931; as amended by the Betting Duty Amendment Ordinance, 1934, it is provided that on every bet made on any totalisator or pari-mutuel authorised by the said Ordinance there shall be charged a duty on a scale to be determined from time to time by resolution of the Legislative Council and Whereas it is expedient that such a scale should now be determined, it is hereby resolved that, in the case of bets made on any totalisator or pari-mutuel, authorised by the said Ordinance there shall be paid a duty according to the following scale:—

Where in any year ending on the 31st day of March the total gross receipts from the sale of tickets at such totalisator or pari-mutuel do not exceed $3,000,000, 1 per cent. of such total; exceed $3,000,000 but do not exceed $4,000,000, 1½ per cent. of such total; exceed $4,000,000 but do not exceed $5,000,000, 2 per cent. of such total; exceed $5,000,000 but do not exceed $6,000,000, 2½ per cent. of such total; exceed $6,000,000, 3 per cent. of such total.

The Attorney General to move—That the Order dated 3rd day of August, 1934, made by the Chief Justice under section 114 of the Bankruptcy Ordinance, 1931, Ordinance No. 10 of 1931, be approved.

The Colonial Secretary to move the First reading of—"A Bill to apply a sum not exceeding Twenty-six million three hundred and twenty-four thousand two hundred and nineteen dollars to the Public Service of the year 1935."

The Attorney General to move the First reading of—"A Bill to make provision for financing and carrying out a scheme for new Government House and for the development of a portion of the City of Victoria."

"A Bill to amend the Empire Preference Ordinance, 1932."
The Attorney General to move the Second reading of—"A Bill to amend the Printers and Publishers Ordinance, 1927."

years, the cost of repairs and replacements has increased. A sum of $5,000 is now required so that normal repairs and replacements may be proceeded with, up to the end of the year.

New Year Bonuses to Chinese Employees $1,275

The sum provided in the Estimates proved to be insufficient and a further vote for $1,275 is now requested. The expenditure on this service was $40,180 in 1932 and $43,845 in 1933.

There has been a net increase since 1933 of 120 officers qualifying for the bonus by three years service.

Public Works Recurrent:
Hong Kong, Improvements to Buildings $7,000

It is considered necessary to make certain minor improvements at the Leighton Hill Senior Officers' Quarters, to construct a "Strong Room" at No. 7 Police Station, and to carry out certain other minor works under this expenditure head of Improvements to Buildings, at an estimated cost of $7,000.

The provision in the current year's Estimates has already been fully allocated for minor works, and the improvements now required have not been allowed for.

TRANSATLANTIC FLIGHTS

Nothing could more clearly indicate the certainty of regular transatlantic flying in the near future than the calm acceptance by the public of the rather startling record made recently by the new Sikorsky S-42 flying boat. Designed for the Pan American Airways for immediate service on its South American run, the machine was actually built with an eye to cross-ocean flying. On a triangular course over water it made a trip of 1242.8 miles at an average speed of 157.5 miles an hour. In transatlantic terms it made the equivalent of a trip from Newfoundland to the Azores in 7 hours 53 minutes and 58 seconds. Time on the westerly flight would be somewhat slower because of the prevailing head winds.

Atlantic crossing via the Azores long has been considered the most promising route for early regular service. The weather is good along the proposed route and the Azores represent a favourable stopping place for refueling. The problem then resolved itself into getting a ship that would make the trip to the Azores with a sizable pay load at good speed and with a high degree of ocean safety. On this test trip made at only cruising speed, a load equivalent to 32 passengers and 2,000 pounds of mail was carried. Such a load would have definite pay possibilities. Carrying this load only 60 per cent. of the ship's horsepower was used. It had plenty of reserve fuel for further flight. In other words it operated with the normal reserves for regular flying. If the hop from Newfoundland to the Azores can be made in a little less than eight hours, then a trip from New York to Europe via Newfoundland and the Azores, landing in Portugal, could be made in roughly twenty-three hours. Such a trip in a large commodious ship like the S-24 with its pay load possibilities is attractive enough to make cross-ocean flying practically an immediate possibility. It now depends upon organizational and economic factors.

This Sikorsky plane is not the only transatlantic possibility. Glenn L. Martin, the veteran designer, has turned out a twin-engine bomber for the army which is an excellent design for conversion to commercial purposes. It outperforms all other ships of this type, and according to Mr. Martin, with it, or any other ship of a similar design cross-ocean flying, independent of island stops, may be undertaken next year. His plans call for a ship with such an extended range that it could fly direct from New York to London and have reserve enough to fly nearly halfway back again without refueling. His ship would cruise at around 200 miles an hour, making the New York-London trip a matter of probably 15 hours.

These possibilities are all sea-level performance. If the stratosphere designs, of Wiley Post work out, such trips could be made at twice the speed and half the cost. This would immediately greatly reduce the cost of operation. In fact, flights across the Atlantic at around 5,000 a person and in half a day are foreseen if the Post theories prove practical.

CANTON NEWS AND NOTES

Highways Damaged By Floods

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Sept. 11.
Highways along the East River regions are badly damaged by recent floods which rose as high as twenty feet. These highways are really dirt roads and are not paved at all. The flood water washed away the yellowish muddy surface layer, with the result that they are hardly fit for bus transportation.

The Provincial Department of Reconstruction is taking steps to place these highways under its direct control with a view to repairing them. Misunderstanding the purpose of the government, some country people place boulders across the path of the highways in order to obstruct traffic. These highways were built by the country people who either contributed labour or money.

Pal Inspects Air Force

General Pal Hsueh Hsi, well known Kwangsi military leader, is expected to-day at Liuchow, Kwangsi, to inspect the air force there. After the inspection, the Kwangsi general will visit Chuen-hsien, a border town near Hunan, where Kwangsi troops are waiting for the Reds.

A capable strategist, General Pal Hsueh Hsi was requested by the Canton military authorities to tour Eastern and Northern Kwangtung and to examine the defence works there. After completing his round of inspection General Pal returns to Kwangsi to resume his military command in view of the attempts of the Reds to penetrate into that province.

Air Defence Parade

The Ten-Men League, an official organ established for the purpose of raising funds for the aerial defence of Canton will hold a big parade on September 20 in order to draw public attention to their activities. With better publicity, it will be easier for this League to raise money.

In the parade there will be paper-made aeroplanes, machine guns, anti-aircraft guns, etc. The public will be impressed that these weapons are necessary for the protection of the city from air raids.

The tax on rolled tobacco will be levied on September 16 at the rate of ten per cent. ad valorem. All proceeds of this tax will be turned over to the City Kuomintang Headquarters for the purchase of pursuit planes etc. for the aerial defence of Canton.

NEWS AND COMMENTS FROM THE NORTH

French Lady Victim Of Japanese Policeman's Arrogance

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Barely two months ago unruly Japanese mobs almost caused a riot by their assault of British police-officers in the Hongkew District, following which outrage Japanese marines showed their contempt for law and order by beating up an aged Scotsman in Quinsan Gardens within the same week. Another incident occurred in Hongkew some days ago, involving a Japanese policeman and a French lady, the wife of a prominent resident of the Settlement.

According to the "China Press," which claims that the information came from a "thoroughly reliable source," the lady had gone to Hongkew Market to buy some flowers. She was accompanied by a pet dog, which the regulations prohibit being brought into the market premises. Being aware of this fact, she therefore called a flower-seller to the side-walk outside and was proceeding to bargain with him, when a Japanese policeman brusquely came up and seized her by the arm with a view to taking her to the police-station for an alleged infringement of the law. The lady, who was excellent, and whose condition was perfectly obvious to everybody, was greatly distressed by the charge, and although her denial that she had brought the dog into the market was corroborated by the flower-seller, the Japanese policeman was adamant, and evidently intent only on displaying his authority. When the lady wished to get into a rickshaw, he summarily made her alight. No consideration was shown for her obviously delicate condition, and he finally marched her off with him. She subsequently fainted and fell to the floor in the police-station, when her case was inquired into, and she was then released.

An interesting episode was the arrival of a foreign policeman during the argument, to whom the victim appealed, but the officer, apparently having the example of the unfortunate Sergeant Bellamy in mind, and not feeling any eagerness to receive a black mark for zealous performance of his official duties, just minded his own business, whatever it was. One of the foreign officers who told the "China Press" reporter—"What could we do? All we can do is to take orders! I tell you it's no fun being a police officer with an assignment in Hongkew, not the way things are run,"—probably reflects the attitude of the body of foreign police-officers in Hongkew, who are in the unenviable plight of having two masters, the S.M.C. and the Japanese.

Incidents such as these make one wonder whether, and to what extent, defined or otherwise, the S.M.C. has surrendered its police and other municipal powers to the Japanese Naval Landing Party. Does the S.M.C. sit in solemn conclave at the Kiangwan Road Barracks when it debates matters pertaining to Hongkew? The perturbed Settlement ratepayer no longer wrinkles his much furrowed brow puzzling out such problems and the inscrutable ways of that august body. There is nothing now that can alter his private conviction as to who "calls the tune" in Hongkew, unless the body to whom he hands in the cheque to pay the piper can get some other tune played than "Japanese Sandman."

The ground floor of No. 43 Shapp Street, Kowloon City was completely destroyed by a fire in the early hours of yesterday morning. The floor was used for the storage of joss paper. No casualties were suffered, and the extent of the damage has not yet been estimated.

Mr. Griffiths of the P.W.D. has reported to the Police that at about 3 p.m. yesterday while working in the Blue Pool Road near the Jockey Club stables, two Chinese Chung Shu Bun, a P.W.D. foreman and Wong Piu, a coolie were slightly injured by a fall of earth when digging a trench prior to building a wall.

Apparently surprised by the occupants of the flat, a burglar after committing a larceny, attempted to escape from the verandah of No. 82 Lockhart Road, third floor, early yesterday morning. He missed his footing and fell to the ground, fracturing his right arm. He is now at the Government Civil Hospital in a serious condition.

The many friends of Miss Catherine A. Roy will be pleased to learn that she has been promoted to the post of principal matron in the Army Nursing Service. Miss Roy left Hong Kong last June after two years' service as Matron with the Queen Alexandra's Imperial Military Nursing Service. Changyuen district is reported to have suffered damage estimated at $13,000,000 in the recent floods in southern Chihli. The flooded area is reported to have been 1,900 square li and no less than 2,000 villages were destroyed while the refugees number 130,000 men. Women are not mentioned. At Puyang the flooded area is estimated at 900 square li and the loss estimated at $2,000,000 while about 50,000 people were rendered homeless. This report is according to the "Shenpao."

Coal deposits have been discovered in the vicinity of Lake Selzhavrovo in Western province. This discovery is of immense importance for Moscow and Leningrad provinces. Layers of coal have been found at a depth of 55 to 70 metres, of which the main layer is three to four metres thick. The Selzhavrovo coal is similar to Moscow coal in quality. By order of Ordzhonikidze, People's Commissar of Heavy Industry, the surveying work is to proceed rapidly. The volume of the coal deposits and their industrial importance should be determined shortly.

The "Ching Chiao Shih Lu" (the authentic record of Ching Dynasty) in 5,700 volumes, now in the custody of the Manchoukuo national library, Mukden, will be reprinted by Manchoukuo Department of Education, assisted by the Sino-Japanese Enlightenment Society. It will be started in September under the supervision of Dr. Ono and Mr. Baiygo Mizuno, a Sinologist. The estimated cost for reprinting is placed at ¥120,000 to ¥130,000. They are to be reprinted to supply research materials and are to be widely distributed. When work on the "Ching Chiao Shih Lu" is over, the reproduction of the famous "Ssu Ku Chuan Shu" will be taken in hand. The enterprise is expected to contribute much to the learned world.

SOVIET ENTRY TO THE LEAGUE

Adverse Comment By Baron Charnwood

London, Sept. 11. Baron Charnwood in a letter to the "Times" says that the admission of the Soviet to the League of Nations will be open to the abandonment of the principles and aspirations of the League's founders which it not avowedly religious were in all cases strongly humanitarian.

He gives instances of the Soviet's relentless mass persecutions and persistent campaign for world revolution and slave labour camps which are all totally antagonistic to the spirit and covenant of the League. Thus the Soviet's admission means either avowed abandonment of the principles on which the League is founded or conversion of the League into organised hypocrisy.

SECRET SESSION

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Geneva, Sept. 10. A secret session of the League of Nations began at 6 p.m. and lasted until 8 p.m., ending with the acceptance of the proposal that Soviet Russia be allotted a permanent seat on the League Council. Two States, Portugal and Argentina, abstained from recording their votes when the ballot was taken.

As no agreement is yet reached about the form of institution for Russia to enter the League of Nations, it is assumed that representatives of different delegations will confer with one another privately on the matter. The Council has decided to continue the consideration of the question of procedure of the invitation on Tuesday. Transocean Kuo Min.

EASTERN PACT PROPOSAL

Germany's Views

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Berlin, Sept. 10. After having carefully examined the particulars of the proposed Eastern pact, the German Government communicated on Monday with all the governments interested in her attitude towards the plan. As is generally known, the new system proposed for the maintenance of peace in Eastern Europe consists essentially in the engagement of eight signatories, namely, Germany, Soviet, Russia, Poland, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, Finland and Czechoslovakia to support one another militarily in the case of war. Moreover, Russia should also guarantee the Rhineland Locarno pact, and France to give guarantee for the Eastern pact. These guarantees should also have possible advantages for Germany. The whole system presupposes that all member States should belong to the League of Nations.

EQUALITY CLAIM

In its observations, the German Government declared that its fundamental view was that it could see no possibility of becoming a party to such international treaty system as long as its claim to equal status in the matter of armaments was still made the matter of doubt by certain powers. The same point of view had been determined for the question of Germany's future relationship to the League of Nations. As for the proposed obligation to render military support to the pact signatories, the German Government set forth that realisation of the provisions of the League of Nations concerning the sanctions, had up till now met with insuperable difficulties at all international negotiations. Germany's central position is in the midst of special caution and precludes the possibility of undertaking any kind of obligation which would make it a party to all cases of conflict in the East, and in all probability make Germany itself the seat of war. For special guarantees, France and Soviet Russia provided for in the pact system, no real political need exists. In any case, Germany cannot expect any advantages from such guarantees. The German Government believes that other methods for the maintenance of peace promise better prospects of success.

MULTIPLE POWER TREATIES

Generally speaking, the German Government would prefer two-power agreements, but declines to be a party to multiple power treaties. Moreover, the essential feature of such two-power treaties must not be an obligation to render military aid automatically in the case of an outbreak of war but a solemn undertaking of non-

MEETING OF THE LEAGUE

Achievements Of The Past

Geneva, Sept. 10.

The fifteenth regular League of Nations assembly was opened here on Monday by the chairman, M. Benes, the Czechoslovakian Foreign Minister, who made an optimistic speech summarising the achievements of the Geneva institution in the last few years as contrasted with its failures. The world crisis, said Benes, is comparable to the greatest periods and change of the depression through which mankind ever passed. The crisis had brought both credit and debit entries to the League of Nations account. Among the debits, Benes reckoned the deadlock of the disarmament conference, the withdrawal of Germany and Japan, the Gran-Chaco war failure, and the World Economic Conference. Benes assessed the departure of two great Powers from the League not as a sign of decay of the institution but as one of the vicissitudes to be expected at critical junctures. Benes declared "the League must watch for a suitable moment to prepare the return of her prodigal sons."

As the entries on the credit side of the ledger, Benes spoke of the League's recent success in bringing about increased intimacy of United States' co-operation, the progress in the Saar settlement and the recent non-aggression pacts. A further great asset, said Benes, would be the entry of Russia "without whose co-operation the situation in Europe and the rest of the world could not return to normal." Similarly, decisive progress is anticipated by the speaker from the signing of the East Locarno pact "which will directly or indirectly influence the whole situation of the whole of Central Europe and constitute the first step to the conclusion of similar pacts embracing the rest of the continent."

attack and simultaneously preparedness to enter into consultation with the Powers concerned in the conflict. Such obligations would readily lend themselves to the establishment of real peace guarantees but assuring the provision of friendly measures to prevent an outbreak of war, without their involving danger of serious complications as would certainly be the case with multiple aid pacts now proposed by other Powers.—Transocean Kuo Min.

THE CURRENCY BAROMETER

Reaction To U.S. Operations

London, Sept. 11.

The operations of American control mostly carried out in the Paris market resulted in further appreciation of the dollar in terms of the franc. The intention of American authorities is believed to be the maintenance of a favourable rate at least until completion of the present debt conversion.

Sterling moved sympathetically although the underlying factors are making for weakness of sterling, i.e., seasonal demand for dollars and flow of funds to Paris in order to benefit from the higher interest level which there continues to exist.

A weaker franc caused a further drop in the London gold price to 140/34. Fall of premium over the franc to 3d., and over the dollar to 61d., is attributed to profit taking, only a negligible amount of South African gold being offered.—Reuter.

COLONIES LOST IN THE WAR

Germany's Needs

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Berlin, Sept. 10. The Fuehrer's deputy, Hess addressed a delegation representing Germans belonging to the National-Socialist party domiciled in foreign countries. After assuring the hearers that the Fuehrer fully appreciated the difficult task of keeping the flag flying abroad, Hess dealt with the question of the return to Germany of her former colonies placed by the Treaty of Versailles under foreign mandate. Hess said that it goes without saying that Germany would warmly greet the return of the colonies to German sovereignty because they are a prime necessity to the Reich as sources for raw materials that Germany, for want of foreign currencies, could not to-day afford to import. But under the present circumstances the initiative must come from countries that at present hold the colonies since any attempt by Germany to start international discussion would be interpreted abroad as a declaration of hostilities.—Transocean Kuo Min.

MORRO CASTLE FIRE ALLEGATION

Federal Grand Jury To Investigate

New York, Sept. 11.

Following the sensational evidence at the Morro Castle enquiry, Mr. William Warms, Chief Officer, who was acting captain of the liner, and the acting First and Second Officers were summoned to appear before a Federal Grand Jury which will investigate the possibility of incendiarism.

The Second Officer, Mr. Clarence Hackney, in evidence before the enquiry, said that the boats were lowered before the Captain gave orders. There was little real discipline among the crew.

The First Officer, Mr. Ivan Freeman, after excluding other theories, expressed the opinion that the fire deliberately spread and there was no labour trouble aboard.

Asbury Castle is deriving such benefit from the influx of sightseers of the hulk that a council official has been deputed to negotiate for its purchase.—Reuter.

CAPTAIN'S BODY?

New York, Sept. 11.

The Cuban Government has opened an official investigation into the Morro Castle disaster in view of rumours of sabotage and reports that two stowaways embarked at Havana.

Captain Hernandez, chief of the Havana Police, declared that Communists had been very active there and he believed the fire was the work of a passenger who placed chemicals among the baggage. If done by a member of the crew it would have started below the decks.

The liner's fire prevention system was found to be perfect when examined at Havana, yet it apparently did not function when required; and Captain Willmott's heart trouble was unheard of in Havana, although his well-known acquaintances suggest poisoning.

The Astbury Park fire brigade found a charred body in the Captain's quarters. Identification will be extremely difficult as even the legs of the bed on which he had been lying had melted.—Reuter.

RELATIVES' DEMAND

New York, Sept. 10.

According to the "New York Evening Post," the relatives of Captain Robert Willmott will demand a rigorous investigation of his death.

They declare that the report that Captain Willmott died of heart failure is ridiculous. He had never had heart trouble.

A cousin of the deceased captain suggested that the whole affair was possibly the result of a Cuban plot. He declared that a certain group of Cubans would stick at nothing to have the United States intervene there.—Reuter.

GERMANY'S DEBTS TO LANCASHIRE

London, Sept. 10. The representatives of the English cotton spinners who had been conducting negotiations in Berlin in the past week about concrete plans for the settlement of outstanding accounts for goods delivered to Germany, returned to London on Sunday. Particulars of the results achieved are not yet made known but will be announced in Manchester on Tuesday. It is, however, stated that the total sum affected by the negotiations is about £400,000 and that the good impression created by the fact that the provisional proposals about the settlement were made from the German side, although complete liquidation by Germany of these old accounts will inevitably require a lengthy period.

If the majority of English spinners declare themselves willing to accept the German proposals the next question will be whether the export of cotton and yarns to Germany cannot be resumed.—Transocean Kuo Min.

VICTORY FOR NEW DEAL

Governor Brann Re-elected

Portland, Maine, Sept. 11.

A smashing victory for the "New Deal" was won at the election for the Governorship of Maine. With only two-thirds returns known, the Republican candidate Mr. Alfred Kames conceded a victory to the retiring Democrat, Mr. Louis J. Brann, when the latter was leading 88,880 votes to 80,371 votes. Thus the majority has vastly increased as compared with 2,500 votes at the 1932 election.

This is regarded as of the highest importance by both parties as Maine is normally the electoral weathercock. Governor Brann is the first Democrat to secure re-election.

British Deal Revealed

Washington, Sept. 11. A letter to Mr. Miranda, President of the American Armament Corporation (1933), Limited from Mr. John Ball a director of the Sole Armament Company Limited London, was read at the Senate enquiry into the American munitions industry.

The letter stated that the Sole Company was disposing of about £6,000,000 worth of small arms left over from the war, on behalf of the British Government.

Evidence was given that the Sole Company arranged for the American Armament Corporation to act as their agents and sell these munitions to Latin America, except Nicaragua.

The letter said that the British Government would not permit the sale to the revolutionaries in Nicaragua owing to the American interest there.

Mr. Miranda testified that President Roosevelt's arms embargo had cost his company $320,000 worth of orders for munitions.—Reuter.

Shanghai's More Hopeful Prospects

Shanghai, Sept. 8. The Shanghai Interport swimming team to meet the representatives from Tientsin and Hong Kong in the forthcoming triangular contest to take place here on September 13, 14, and 15, now have been chosen and hopes for premier honours are much greater than they were prior to the holding of the local championships. Tientsin and Hong Kong previously had been reported to have set up times that none of Shanghai's swimmers could equal, but the revelation of Noel Hammond's speed over the shorter distances has brought about a revival of hopes for Shanghai's success.

The Hong Kong team will leave the Colony by the s.s. President Coolidge on September 8 and are expected to arrive here on the 10th, thereby giving themselves time to get some practice and acquaint themselves with local conditions, as they have always swum in salt water down south. The team are fourteen strong and make a very strong side, being especially brilliant at the longer distances. Tientsin have created a sensation by sending down the smallest interport team ever known, for they are only being represented by six swimmers. These combine proficiency in a number of styles and they are confident they can bring off a coup without resorting to the water polo match, which they are not contesting. Inability to get leave and other causes are the reasons for not sending a water polo team. It is not known when the Tientsin team will arrive, but they will reach here by train between the 10th and 12th.

The visiting teams will be accommodated at the Foreign Y.M.C.A. and a programme of events has been arranged so that their time here will be fully occupied. On Thursday, September 13, the three teams will be entertained by the committee of the French Club to dinner and in the evening of that day the first night's events of the three-day gala will be swum off. The French Club committee have been particularly kind in lending their spacious bath, with its large accommodation for spectators. On Monday, September 17, the interport dinner will be held at the Rowing Club.

The Competitors

It is interesting to note that four Chinese swimmers have been included in the Hong Kong team and Shanghai will remember at least one of them in the All-Star Chinese team who competed against a local side here last year. These Chinese swimmers have shown themselves to be outstandingly good in competition in Hong Kong and it is anticipated they will win several of the events.

50 yd. free-style.—W. Lawrence, T. Paget (Hong Kong); G. Niglewitzky, M. Prodan (Tientsin); N. G. Hammond, C. H. Raven (Shanghai).

Following is the programme of Interport events:—

Thursday, September 13.—220 yards free style, 100 yards breast stroke, free style relay.

Friday, September 14.—880 yards free style, 100 yards free style, medley relay.

Saturday, September 15.—50 yards free style, 100 yards back-stroke, diving, 440 yards free style, water polo (Hong Kong v. Shanghai).

Apart from the Interport events, there will be a number of other handiicap and amusing contests on the programme and from the number of entries to date, the spectators are assured of some fine competition throughout each evening, as the majority of the best swimmers in Shanghai will participate.

Some Comparison
Hong Kong and Tientsin are very strong in the long distances and will have to fight it out between themselves for honours here, while they have also the best men for the back stroke, but Shanghai ought to come into her own in the sprints and may gather points in the relay and the diving.

Indications from Hong Kong are to the effect that Kwok Chan-hang, the Colony's breast-stroke champion, has been covering 100 yards in the phenomenal time of 73 sec. The following are believed to be the best times made by the various swimmers this year, and form an interesting comparison:—

50 yards free style.—T. Paget (Hong Kong) 26 sec., G. Niglewitzky (Tientsin) 25.2/5 sec., N. G. Hammond (Shanghai) 25.2/5 sec.

100 yards free style.—W. Lawrence (Hong Kong) 58.3/5 sec., G. Niglewitzky (Tientsin) 59.2/5 sec., N. G. Hammond (Shanghai) 57.1/5 sec.

220 yards free style.—W. Lawrence (Hong Kong) 2 min. 30 sec., G. Niglewitzky (Tientsin) 2 min. 43.4/5 sec., N. G. Hammond (Shanghai) 2 min. 37.4/5 sec.

440 yards free style.—L. Roza Pereira (Hong Kong) 5 min. 41 sec., A. Logan (Shanghai) 5 min. 53.3/5 sec.

880 yards free style.—L. Roza Pereira (Hong Kong) 11 min. 58.3/5 sec., R. Norman (Tientsin) 11 min. 57.3/5 sec., C. H. Raven (Shanghai) 13 min. 30.4/5 sec.

100 yards back-stroke.—Lau Po-hay (Hong Kong) 69.3/5 sec., W. Wagner (Shanghai) 74.4/5 sec.

100 yards breast-stroke.—Kwok Chan-hang (Hong Kong) 73 sec., R. Norman (Tientsin) 82 sec., O. Hagenstein (Shanghai) 82.2/5 sec.

100 yd. free-style.—W. Lawrence, E. B. Roza, O. Ohlwein, G. Niglewitzky, N. G. Hammond, A. Logan.

220 yd. free-style.—W. Lawrence, L. Roza Pereira, O. Ohlwein, G. Niglewitzky, N. G. Hammond, A. Logan.

440 yd. free-style.—W. Lawrence, L. Roza Pereira, O. Ohlwein, R. Norman, A. Logan, C. H. Raven.

880 yd. free-style.—L. Roza Pereira, A. A. Roza, O. Ohlwein, R. Norman, C. H. Raven, G. M. Unterberger.

100 yd. breast-stroke.—Kwok Chan-hang, E. M. Marquis, R. Norman, T. Tuleneff, O. Hagenstein, J. Lane.

AQUATICS

Royal Artillery Gala

A very large crowd of cheering and enthusiastic spectators witnessed the aquatic sports of the 20th Battery, Royal Artillery, which were held in the European Y.M.C.A. Swimming Pool yesterday afternoon, when some very fine individual performances were seen.

Undoubtedly the outstanding performer was T. Smith who secured wins in the 25, 50 and 75 Yard sprint events besides being placed second in the half mile, and first in the Gunner's 150 Yards Free Style.

Mooney also had some measure of success taking first place in the Non-Commissioned Officers' race, the 150 Yards Medley, and the half mile and being placed in several other events.

Results follow:—
75 Yards Individual Free Style:—1 T. Smith, 2 Mooney, 3 Gay.
Non-Commissioned Officers' Race:—1 Mooney, 2 Brazier, 3 Gay.

50 Yards Individual Free Style:—1 T. Smith, 2 Mooney, 3 Gay.
Beginners 25 Yards Dash:—1 Stubbs, 2 Sandells, 3 Wright.

25 Yards Individual Free Style:—1 T. Smith, 2 Roscoe, 3 Gay.
Gunner's 150 Yards Free Style:—1 T. Smith, 2 Gower, 3 Gardiner.

150 Yards Three Styles Medley:—1 Mooney, 2 Gower, 3 Roscoe.
Diving:—1 Connor, 2 Brock and Mooney.

Plunging:—1 Tyrrell, 2 J. Matthews, 3 Mooney.
Half Mile:—1 Mooney, 2 T. Smith, 3 Roscoe, 4 Gower.

Obstacle Race:—1 Hopkins, 2 Crawley.
Consolation Race:—1 Sell, 2 Simpson.

Boys' 25 Yards Dash:—1 A. Clarke, 2 Harry Clarke, 3 Len Clarke.

SALE OF FRUITS

Committee To Investigate

At the fortnightly meeting of the Sanitary Board yesterday, the question of sale of fruit other than in markets was discussed.

Mr. R.A.D. Forrest, the President of the Board, said that the suggestion for restricting the sale of fruit, came from the S.C.A. He did not think anybody could hold that the sale of fruit would be discouraged by these restrictions, and the only point at issue was how far the Board could go in granting licences for the sale of fruits outside the markets. His personal view was that the sale of fruit would not be discouraged if the sale was kept away from the markets.

The Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, Secretary for Chinese Affairs, said that this suggestion was that the Board might consider once again, as it had done before, whether there were any good reasons for insisting on the licensing of shops where fruit was sold any more than shops where various food-stuffs were sold. If they kept a strict control on fish, poultry and meat, it should be examined whether the same should apply to fruit shops. If the M.O.H. considered that they should control fruit shops, then he thought the Board should be guided by that.

Dr. J. M. Gray, Medical Officer of Health, remarked that he thought the idea of his predecessors was that they considered that fruits might become contaminated through contact with vegetables.

Committee Appointed
Mr. M. K. Lo remarked that from what he gathered from the M.O.H. it seemed that was a question of hygiene. As it did not actually concern the licensing of fruit shops, he did not see why the Board should encourage the sale of fruits in the markets at all. He proposed that a sub-committee be appointed to go into the matter before making any decision.

On Mr. Forrest remarking that he welcomed the suggestion, Mr. Lo proposed that Dr. Li Shu Fan, Mr. L. C. F. Bellamy and Dr. J. Selk.

Long Plunge.—W. Schreuder or S. H. Garrod and H. F. Lange.
220 Yards Free Style.—H. G. Lange and W. Schreuder.

100 Yards Breast Stroke.—R. B. Wood and H. F. Lange.
Fancy Diving.—E. F. Selk and R. Goldman.

100 Yards Free Style.—H. G. Lange and G. H. Fowler.
50 Yards Back Stroke.—F. J. Anslow and H. F. Lange.

200 Yards Free Style Relay Race:—R. B. Wood, G. H. Fowler, R. Goldman, and E. F. Selk.

ROWING

Singapore v. Batavia

Singapore, Sept. 5.

A regatta is to be held by the Royal Singapore Yacht Club on Friday evening, commencing at 5.15 p.m. Three events have been arranged. The first is the Club Paira, over a course of three quarters of a mile, the second, the Junior sculls, over the same course, and the third a trial over one mile for the crew which will represent the Singapore Club in the Interport against Batavia Rowing Club, which is arranged for Friday, September 21.

The local crew is considerably strengthened by the inclusion of W. D. C. Erskine-Crum, who rowed for Oxford in this year's Varsity Race at Home, and with T. H. Stokes, H. Price and G. M. Coltart completing the crew, the club should take a lot of beating. The forthcoming interport event against Batavia is looked forward to with keen interest by the rowing community in Singapore.

The Batavia Rowing Club was formed in 1932 and has grown rapidly, having now over 100 members. This will be the Dutch Club's first appearance in these waters, and they are sending over a crew to compete in the Fours Race against the R.S.Y.C. for the Interport Cup presented by the latter Club in 1927 for competition between crews from other ports. The Cup is at present held by the MRF Rowing Club who will be coming in later in the year to compete for it.

Lighter Boat

The Batavia Club are bringing their own boat with them which is fitted with swivel rowlocks and is considerably lighter than those used by the Singapore crew; this may prove to be a doubtful advantage when weather conditions are taken into consideration. The visiting crew hope to arrive on September 17th, with their coach, when they will be able to put in the final touches to their training for the race.

The Singapore crew which will be stroked by Mr. W.D.C. Erskine-Crum, one time Captain of Boats at Eton and President of the Oxford University Boat Club, has been in training for the past five weeks under the direction of Mr. Paul Storr of the London Rowing Club. This is Erskine-Crum's first race since he arrived in Singapore.

AMERICAN TENNIS

Semi-Final Stage Reached

Forest Hills, Sept. 10.

A surprise in the American national singles tennis championship was created to-day when Vernon Kirby, the South African player, defeated Frank Shields. He meets Fred Perry in the semi-final.

Shields led 4-0 in the first set, and 3-0 in the second, after which Kirby, with a beautifully produced service, wideflung forehand drives, and scintillating placements, took the second and third sets.

Kirby obtained a brilliant victory in the fourth set, using the cleverest drop-shots which Shields returned into the net with monotonous regularity. Kirby slammed out the ninth and final game to love on his own service.

Sidney Wood and Allison qualified to meet in the other semi-final, the former accounting for Frank Parker, the youthful player.

The following were the results:—
V. G. Kirby (S. Africa) beat F. X. Shields (U.S.) 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

F. J. Perry (Britain) beat C. Sutter (U.S.) 6-3, 6-0, 6-2.
S. Wood (U.S.) beat F. Parker (U.S.) 6-4, 6-4, 7-5.

W. Allison (U.S.) beat L. R. Stollen (U.S.) 6-6, 4-6, 11-9, 6-3, 6-2.—

Stokes Tops Bowling And Batting Averages

Shanghai, Sept. 6.

With surprises abundant in the matches concluded last week-end, the consequent reshufflings in the table of the Shanghai cricket league will have the effect of maintaining interest in the two remaining engagements. Both the Reds eleven lost, and, as the Nomads humbled the mighty Ramblers, and the Wanderers managed to triumph over the Services, while the Police lost, two teams now have the same number of points.

L. F. Stokes has returned to the top of the bowling averages and now holds dual honours, with bat and ball. D. W. Leach has reached his half-century of wickets for the season and leads Booth by one, while J. A. Isaacs, the Police veteran, requires but four to make his fifty.

ALLEGATION OF ASSAULT Made Against Land Bailiff

A charge of assault without any justifiable cause against William Gordon Routley, described as a Land Bailiff of the Public Works Department formed the subject of a hearing at the Kowloon Magistracy before Mr. Lee yesterday, when the defendant pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Peter H. Sin appeared for the prosecution, who alleged that the defendant assaulted Lam Yuet-fong, married woman of No. 16 Po Kong Village, Kowloon City, by throwing a stone at her causing injuries to her right leg.

Interpreter Accused Of Demanding Money

Outlining the facts of the case Mr. P. H. Sin said that the defendant was a Land Bailiff of the Public Works Department.

The prosecution alleges that the defendant without any justifiable cause on July 20 assaulted the complainant Lam Yuet-fong by hitting her on the right leg with a piece of stone. The prosecution would call evidence to show that the complainant had a bruise and several abrasions on the right leg consistent with the stone throwing.

The facts leading to the assault, continued counsel, were as follows: Prior to July 20 the complainant had received several visits from the defendant who on each occasion was accompanied by a Chinese interpreter named Tse Fuk.

On one of these visits the prosecution alleged that Tse Fuk asked the complainant for $80 as tea money but the prosecution did not suggest that the defendant had anything to do with this request.

The complainant had in the meantime obtained a building permit from the Building Authority.

On July 20 the defendant called on the complainant for the fourth time and asked her for her building permit, she produced it and the defendant is alleged to have stated, "Where did you get that junk?" or words to that effect. The defendant then proceeded to measure the shed which was at that time under construction and completing his measurements was alleged to have stated, "that's too bad, you have exceeded the limits of the building as allowed in the permit issued by the building authorities and will have to pull that shed down," or words to that effect. The defendant is then alleged to have picked up a stone and thrown it with great force at the complainant's right foot, he then picked her up from the ground with the assistance of his Chinese interpreter and carried her to his car, eventually taking her to the Kowloon City Police Station.

There, Sub-Inspector Cunningham interrogated the complainant and said was a witness to her injuries in the right foot which was at the time bleeding slightly. She was later taken to the Kowloon Hospital and was a patient there for three days.

"If the case is proved against the defendant I will say that this was a most cowardly act," said Mr. Sin.

Medical Evidence

Dr. Yuen Chiu-kuang, a medical officer at the Kowloon Hospital, said that at about 7.30 p.m. on July 20 the complainant, Lam Yuet-fong, aged about 36 was admitted to the Hospital.

Asked how the abrasions on her leg could have been caused, Dr. Yuen said that a stone thrown with great force might have caused them. Dragging a person into a motor car was not consistent with the dent in the shin-bone.

In answer to a question by the defendant witness said that if the stone had been thrown with great force it was quite probable that it might have glanced upward after striking the shin-bone and so caused the abrasion on the upper part of the right leg.

In answer to Mr. Lee, witness said the distance between the bruise and the abrasion was about 4 inches. The woman was detained in hospital for three days and discharged on July 23.

Given A Lot of Trouble

Sub-Inspector R. Cunningham, then went into the witness box. He said that on the night of July 20 he was on charge-room duty in the Kowloon City Police Station. He remembered the defendant coming to the Station with the complainant in the front seat of the former's car and a Chinese interpreter in the rear seat.

The defendant spoke to witness and said, "this woman has had a permit from the Building Authorities to erect a shed but has exceeded the dimensions in the permit by about 2 feet." Defendant said he did not wish to bring the case before the Court as it would only have meant a fine of about $5. The defendant asked witness to explain to the woman through the Station interpreter what she had done and that she had likewise given them (Mr. Routley and his assistant), a lot of trouble whenever they had visited her.

The complainant, continued Inspector Cunningham, had in the meantime got out of the motor car and was very hysterical, exclaiming "no" meaning that she had been struck by someone.

The complainant was very lame in the right leg. Witness had asked Mr. Routley what was the matter and was told that the complainant had injured her leg while trying to get into the motor-car by hitting the edge of the door.

Mr. Routley then left the station with his Chinese assistant. After giving the complainant first aid she was taken to the Kowloon Hospital by two Chinese who came into the Station about fifteen minutes later.

Later that same day witness had a message from the Kowloon Hospital to the effect that the complainant had been admitted as a patient.

Cross-examined by Mr. Routley, witness said he could not recall having been asked by the defendant to make it plain to the complainant that whenever a Land Bailiff came to inspect the sites he was not to be molested.

Witness denied that the defendant had used his own interpreter at the Station.

"You have a very bad memory, Inspector Cunningham," said the defendant.

Complainant's Story

Lam Yuet-fong the complainant, said she was a married woman and lived at No. 16 Po Kong Village, Kowloon City. She remembered July 20 when the defendant visited her at her village and struck her with a stone.

Witness said that prior to being assaulted the defendant had come to her house and had asked to see her building permit. She produced one which gave her permission to build a shed, the work of which was being carried on at the time.

Witness said the defendant had visited her many times prior to July 20, the first occasion being when the defendant had instructed her to pull down the shed.

"On the second occasion, Tse Fuk, who accompanied the defendant on these trips asked me for $80 tea money, but in fairness to the defendant I do not think he had anything to do with it."

"If I had paid the $80 tea money, I was told by Tse Fuk that there would be no need for me to demolish the shed."

"On the third occasion both the defendant and his Chinese interpreter Tse Fuk asked to see my building permit which I produced. The defendant and Tse Fuk then proceeded to examine the shed and the defendant through Tse Fuk said, 'Your shed has exceeded the permit by its length and breadth,' but witness contended that it had been erected according to plan."

"Then the defendant threw a stone at my right foot and I became giddy with pain. The defendant forced my hands behind my back and between him and Tse Fuk I was forced into his motor car and taken to the Kowloon City Police Station and then to the Kowloon Hospital."

She, To Sin-keung, the complainant's landlord and a retired Chinese merchant from the United States corroborated the last witness.

Twelve carpenters were arrested in a gambling raid by the police on the third floor of No. 34 Wynham Street. They appeared before Mr. Macfadyen yesterday. One of them, Ng Hoi, charged with keeping a gaming house for sam kung, was fined $30, or three weeks' hard labour, while four of the defendants, who were not on bail, were fined $2 or three days' imprisonment each. The remainder of the defendants, who were on bail, were fined $3 each. The money picked up, $5.38, was placed in the Poor Box. Detective-Sergeant Shepherd prosecuted.

Before Mr. Hamilton at the Central Magistracy yesterday Ho Sheung-chi, 23, unemployed, pleaded guilty to stealing a dinghy from a married woman, Wan Wa-mui, at Shaikwan, and failing to report himself to the Police Station, while under police supervision. When sentence of nine months' hard labour was imposed, the defendant asked if he could be placed under police surveillance again, but his Worship refused his request. The defendant, it was stated, lived on a boat at Cheung Chau.

Charges alleging the obtaining of money by means of a forged document from the Kwong Sul Cheung Import and Export firm, No. 64, Des Voeux Road West, and with attempted larceny by a trick, were brought against Lau Kwai-cheung, aged 37 years, when he appeared before Mr. Hamilton yesterday. On the application of the police, the accused was remanded for 48 hours.

While walking along Queen's Road in company with her amah, a married woman, Chau Yuet-ming, of No. 439, Queen's Road Central, had her bag snatched from under her arm. The thief was caught by a man named Tam Kwan. Brought before Mr. Macfadyen in the Central Police Court the snatcher, Ching Tung-ye, aged 22, unemployed, was sentenced to six months' hard labour. Sub-Inspector McEwen prosecuted.

ness's evidence. Witness said the stone thrown was the size of his fist.

In cross-examination by the defendant witness denied that the complainant was his wife although they lived in the same un-numbered hut. He did not make an application for the site on which the shed was built.

In answer to Mr. Sin, witness said he owned the site.

He was about 40 feet from the defendant when the stone was thrown and about half that distance from the complainant.

Encroached Slightly

William Gordon Routley said he was a Land Bailiff at the Public Works Department.

On a date prior to June 20 he inspected the building being put up by the complainant which was an illegal structure and which had no permit.

"I saw the complainant and as she had encroached slightly on Crown Land I told her I would not recommend her for a permit and that she would probably have to remove the building. I left and my coolie followed me. When I got there on July 20 the shed was practically finished and as I was measuring it the complainant came out with a permit from the Building Authority which had been issued unknown to me. I finished measuring the shed and found it to be 90 square feet in excess of the area permitted. The complainant then became very abusive and pushed me away from the shed, making use of bad language in Chinese. I asked her to come with me to Kowloon City Police Station and she said she was willing to go. I helped her into the front left seat and went round the car to the driving wheel, while my assistant got in behind. I then became aware that she had had the door closed on her leg. I took her to the Kowloon City Police Station," said witness.

"I pointed out a small cut in her leg to Inspector Cunningham and asked him to give her a good telling-off and to impress upon her to allow the Land Bailiff to inspect the land whenever he wished to do so."

"I have never interfered with her in any way, either by touching her or by throwing stones," concluded defendant.

Mr. Sin reserved his cross-examination to the next hearing, which was fixed for to-morrow afternoon.

NEWS FROM CHINA

COMMEMORATION SERVICE

A service in commemoration of the first revolutionary movement by Dr. Sun Yat-sen in Canton was held in Chungshan Memorial Hall at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. It was attended by a gathering of over 2000 persons including Party members, government officials, representatives of public bodies and schools.

Mr. Chow Lu on behalf of the Southwest Executive Committee of Kuomintang officiated at the service and made an opening speech. In the course of his address, Mr. Chow recalling the early part of the Revolution said that Dr. Sun Yat-sen started work with only a handful of fellows with improvised agencies secretly established in Hong Kong and Canton. With undaunted spirit, Dr. Sun finally succeeded in overthrowing the Ching regime.

Mr. Chow then referred to the recent trend of events. He said that Dr. Sun devoted his attention to the cause of People's Revolution for relief of the race, national salvation, recovery of territories, and elevation of the nation to a position of equality among the nations. He asked the members of the Party and the people to push forward in the direction of national salvation with the spirit of Dr. Sun.—Central Press.

A TRAVELLING EXHIBITION Postponed Because Of Drought

Hangchow, Sept. 3. General Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Military Affairs Commission, has sanctioned the proposal of Mr. Tseng Yang-fu, Chekiang Provincial Commissioner of Reconstruction and concurrently member of the Committee in charge of the Southeastern Inter-Provincial Travelling Exhibition, to postpone the exhibition which was scheduled to open on October 10, on account of the grave drought situation in the provinces.

However, in order to encourage tourists to visit the scenic spots in the Southeastern provinces, Mr. Tseng said that plans will be made to furnish expert guidance for visitors to this part of the country. A Chekiang Provincial Excursion Guidance Bureau will be established shortly, he added.—Kuo Min.

FLOOD AND DROUGHT

Five Million Dollars Needed

Hankow, Sept. 3. General Chang Chun, Chairman of the Hupeh Provincial Government, has decided to raise a fund of five millions dollars for the succour of the flood and drought victims in various districts in Hupeh province.

It is understood that of the five millions dollars, one million will be raised by the Hupeh Provincial Government, and another million by donations from various public and philanthropic bodies; the balance of three millions will be obtained from the Central authorities.—Kuo Min.

MINING AREAS

To Be Investigated

Canton, Sept. 11. Owing to the province of Kwangtung being rich in minerals, particularly gold, silver, copper, iron, lead, and coal etc., and such deposits being frequently discovered, it has been decided by the Provincial Reconstruction Department that a thorough and scientific examination of these different mining areas should be made, with a view to their proper development.

It is reported that the Government will soon despatch a number of qualified mining experts to the different mining districts to investigate.—Nam Wah Yat Po.

FIGHTING OPIUM Suppression In Ten Provinces

Nanking, Sept. 3. Opium suppression in the ten provinces of Kiangsu, Chekiang, Fukien, Anhui, Kiangsi, Hunan, Hupeh, Honan, Shensi, and Kansu will henceforth be dealt with by the Provisional Headquarters (in Nanchang) of the President of the Military Affairs Commission, states General Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Military Affairs Commission, in identical dispatches to the Provincial Governments concerned.

Estimates of expenditure for the work of opium suppression in the various provinces, the communication states, must be submitted through the Provincial Governments concerned, to the Provisional Headquarters, within one month for approval.

A detailed report on the work of opium-suppression, including an account of the fines imposed and funds expended, the communication continues, should be drawn up by each Provincial Government and submitted to the Headquarters at the end of each month.—Kuo Min.

CROPS SUFFER

Result of Prolonged Drought

Hangchow, Sept. 3. Owing to the long drought, less than 20 per cent. of the normal autumn crop can be expected this year in the district of Pukiang, Central Chekiang, according to investigations conducted by the District Government.

The District Government besides organising a Drought Relief Fund-Raising Committee, has decided to petition the Chekiang Provincial Government to appropriate a sum of $1 millions from the $20 millions "23rd Year Chekiang Provincial Loan" as security for cash loans to enforce labour relief in the district.—Kuo Min.

HONAN'S PLIGHT

Many Districts Ex- empt From Tax

Kaileng, Sept. 3. Latest investigations made by the Provincial Department of Civil Affairs show that altogether 54 districts in Honan province are afflicted by natural calamities, such as flood, drought, typhoon and hailstorms. The Provincial Government is petitioned to instruct the Provincial Department of Finance to make another survey in order to determine which districts should be exempted from payment of the farm tax.—Kuo Min.

INCREASE IN OPIUM SMUGGLING

Canton, Sept. 11. Owing to the increase in the sales and consumption of non-Government opium, due to extensive smuggling, Mr. Wan Chung Sing, Superintendent of the Kwangtung, Opium Suppression Bureau, has proposed that a strict watch be kept on smugglers, so as to safeguard the revenue of the Government.

With this object in view, the Government has placed the "Hai Kwan" Revenue Cruiser at the disposal of Mr. Wan Chung Sing for patrolling purposes and the Naval Authorities have been notified accordingly.—Nam Wah Yat Po.

SHENSI COMMISSIONER VISITS NANKING

Shanghai, Sept. 11. The Shensi Pacific Commissioner, General Yang Hu Chen, will leave for Nanking this evening to see Mr. Wang Ching Wei, and will then return to Shanfu.

It is understood that General Yang has succeeded in raising $2,000,000 for conservancy work on the Wei River Shensi.—Reuter.

NEW YORK STOCK AND COMMODITY QUOTATIONS

AMERICAN ORIENTAL FINANCE CORPORATION AND S. E. LEVY & CO.

New York, Sept. 10.

The American Oriental Finance Corporation's report through their New York agents, Messrs. E. A. Pierce & Co., states:

Stocks:—A cautious attitude is still advisable. Somewhat lower level of prices is indicated.

Grain:—The market was ruling rather erratic, firm early in the day and easy later on evening up.

Buying of futures early in the day was attributed to the day was. Cash premiums were well maintained.

Corn prices held well. The Government Report on Spring Wheat showed a slight excess of private returns. The difference is regarded as too small to be of any consequence. The Corn figures are considered slightly bearish.

Cotton:—A number of mills in the South have resumed operations. There was some hedging and moderate realizing on easiness of securities. Foreign and Domestic Trade demand was small, but consistent. Prices are near the Government loan figures and we do not anticipate any decline in consequence.

Rubber:—The market was steady but very quiet until late in the day. The weakness of the market was in sympathy with stocks.

The Analyst Index of Business Activity is 80.2.

New York, Sept. 10.

Messrs. S. E. Levy & Company's report, through their New York

agents, Messrs. White, Weld & Co., states:

Stocks:—With the Textile strike dead-lock continuing and little evidence of an expansion in Fall business yet apparent, with also inflation talk again in the background for the time being, further discouraged liquidation occurred to-day. Under the circumstances we would expect little show of support until the market approaches the July and August low levels but we would suggest purchases at around those levels for a turn. Business done: 700,000 shares.

Bonds:—Government bonds were slightly better on the announcement of the re-funding scheme but they closed lower, however. High-grade and second issues ruled easier.

Grains:—The Government crop reports were slightly higher than expected. Some liquidation by disappointed long holders may cause temporary business but we remain bullish for the long pull as very limited crops are inevitable. Wheat 19,895,000 bushels (Saturday); Corn 7,223,000 bushels.

Cotton:—Reports indicating that the prospects for the Cotton crop in the South West are improving due to the recent rains and also the easiness of the securities market is making buyers hesitant.

Rubber:—Our opinion of the market remains unchanged and we still consider that as the full effect of the restrictions on exports makes itself felt prices should harden.

Business done: 125 lots.

Flash:—General Electric has declared a dividend of fifteen cents, payable on October 25 on stock on record as of September 28.

LATE NIGHT CABLES

The following cables were received last night by The American Oriental Finance Corporation.

London Forecast

Stock: With little alteration in the Domestic outlook no change is expected in conditions on Wall Street and the tendency is likely to remain dull.

Wheat: The market is expected to open very dull, the bureau report having no effect.

Rubber: The market is anticipated to open a little down.

Cotton: A lower market is expected owing to unfavourable Liverpool cables and a continuation of unfavourable strike news, though some mills are reopening. There are strong rumours of the removal of the process tax.

A.O.F.C. New York Cables

Stock: The action of the market seems to indicate further near term selling. The opening was slightly off with a fair volume.

Cotton: The South was a small seller. There was a good demand on dips. The market acts well.

S. E. Levy & Co.'s Cables

The following cabled reports were furnished by Messrs. S. E. Levy and Co. last night:

American Weather Report (New York, Sept. 11, 6 p.m.)

The weather in the East is warmer while the West generally is fair. Oklahoma is having downpours but there is light rainfall along the coast.

The weather in the Grain Belts is slightly warmer with local showers except the South West where it is clear and also warmer. North Alberta is experiencing cold and frosty weather.

Market Reports

The turning tide in steel activity is encouraging, but at the same time the small improvement is construed as indicating that business recovery will proceed very slowly in the Autumn.

Unfavourable factors were:—

1. Activity continues to expand on setbacks.

2. The lowering of prices for Stock Exchange seats is attributed to the disappointment felt over the failure of the market to spin into an inflation boom.

The net profit of the Kennecott Copper Corp. for the first six months totalled $3,888,000 equivalent to 36 cents per share.

A message from Washington states that Secretary Henry Morgenthau described the new Treasury offerings as "going satisfactorily."

The market is moderately active and somewhat irregular, but the trend is chiefly lower. The penetration of the recent resistance levels has unsettled sentiment and, with mining issues again under pressure—U.S. Smelting shares falling three points—a further moderate reactionary tendency seems to be indicated.

A Stock Exchange seat was sold for seventy-six thousand dollars, a decline of two thousand dollars from the price paid for a previous seat.

London Silver:—Spot 21 3/4, down 1/16; Forward 21 13/16, down 1/16.

PALAIS DE DANSE

New Cabaret For Singapore

Singapore, Sept. 4

Singapore's social amenities are shortly to be added to in the shape of another up-to-date cabaret known as the Palais de Danse to be built in Serangoon Road. For this purpose a company has been formed with a capital of $100,000.

Subscription lists opened on Aug. 30 and will close on Sept. 5. A copy of the prospectus has been filed with the Registrar of Companies. The first directors will be Messrs. R. Jumbay, Woon Hong Chin, A. M. Alsaroff, N. A. Mallal, Cheong Hock Chye, and J. S. M. Rennie.

The building, which will be a steel structure 144 feet, by 90 feet, will have a dancing floor space of 4,000 sq. feet, the actual dance floor being on springs and sunk a few inches below the seating accommodation. One of the features will be the lighting effect for which an elaborate system is to be installed. The entrance will be from Serangoon Road, alongside the Royal Bakery, the hall being thrown back about 150 yards from the main road. There will be all modern amenities such as a first class European restaurant a bar, dressing rooms, bath room etc.

Arrangements have been made for an up-to-date orchestra, every member of which will be an accomplished vaudeville artiste.

It is expected that the building which will cost about $18,000 will be completed in six months. All the plans have been approved by the Health Department and the Municipality. The site selected seems to be ideal, commanding as it does a district that is very heavily populated and provided with excellent transport facilities.

For the present it is the intention of the directors to confine their activities to a dance hall and cabaret and to specialise in this line only, there being always ample ground for further extension to include boxing, skating, cinema, etc.

The plan of the building, together with the site plan of the layout have already been submitted to the directors of the Singapore Building Corporation Ltd., together with the terms of the proposed lease for their approval and these have been sanctioned.

Belgian Professor's Experiment

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 22
Another stratosphere ascent in a specially constructed balloon was made by Professor Max Cosyns, the Belgian scientist. The balloon, which, ascended in the Belgian Ardennes, was at one time reported as having descended about a mile from Saarbrücken, but later reports made it clear that the flight was continuing over Austria and the Croatian plain, where the balloon would be able to descend.

The following is a record of the flight as reported in Reuter telegrams—

Over Neuf Chateau, Belgium... 8.0 a.m.
Over Trier, Rhineland... 9.0 a.m.
Over Saarbrücken... 11.15 a.m.
Over Graz, Austria... 7.0 p.m.
Over Fehring, Yugoslavia Frontier... 7.40 p.m.

Professor Cosyns, who accompanied Professor Piccard on his previous ascent, has one companion, M. Van der Elst.

There was no wind on the ground when the balloon soared aloft amid the cheers of the large crowd which had been assembling in the field since daybreak.

The gondola is of aluminium, the walls being only one-eighth of an inch thick. The gasbag has a capacity of 14,000 cubic metres. The balloon is equipped with a "sleeve" which passes vertically through the balloon and enables the pilot to check his ascent at any stage. It also carries an automatic camera.

PREVIOUS FLIGHTS

Six previous flights into the stratosphere have been made; they were:

- (1) May 27, 1931: Professor Piccard; 9 1/2 miles.
- (2) August 13, 1932: Professor Piccard; nearly 19 1/2 miles.
- (3) November 20, 1933: Lieutenant-Commander Seattle and Major Fordney; over 11 1/2 miles.
- (4) September 30, 1933: U.S.S.R. Army balloon; 11 1/4-5 miles.
- (5) January 30, 1934: U.S.S.R. Osoaviakhim Syrus ascended from Moscow and crashed 350 miles away with the loss of the lives of the three occupants, Fedosenko, Nisenzki and Uysyn. Reached a height of 13

TO PARIS BY AIR

Fast Service From New Airport

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, August 25.
London's newest airport, at Stapleford Abbots, Essex, is nearing completion and will shortly be the terminal of the fastest air line operating between London and Paris.

The lay-out of the airport has been planned to enable three lines of traffic to be dealt with simultaneously, and in just a few weeks the ground has been prepared, hangars erected and a restaurant and large Customs shed built.

The new aerodrome is the headquarters of Hillman Airways, which operates a daily service from London to Belfast via Liverpool, as well as a London-Paris route with three services a day in each direction.

For 8 Passengers

On the Paris route it is shortly proposed to introduce a fleet of new, high-speed aircraft, which, cruising at 140 m.p.h., will enable the scheduled time in the air between the two capitals to be reduced to 1 1/2 hours.

During the past few days one of these new machines has already beaten in each direction, by several minutes, one of the French air liners, the fastest machines on the route.

The new machines carry 8 passengers, and though fitted with two engines totalling only 400 h.p., are capable of a top speed of 185 miles an hour.

2-3 miles by barograph found after the crash.

(5) July 28, 1934: Major Kemper, Captain Stevens and Mr. Orvil Anderson; just over 11 miles (height unconfirmed).

A Banna View

A prominent scientist here has expressed the view that the stratosphere balloons, having reached a great height, have suffocated. The balloon is now drifting in the triangle formed by Austria, Yugoslavia, and Hungary. It is not understood why the professor did not attempt to land in the Graz plain. Unless he is able to reach the Hungarian plain, his chances of landing safely in the rocky Austro-Yugoslav landscape are bad, quite apart from the difficulties added by darkness.

SHANGHAI MARKET

Shanghai, Sept. 4

The outstanding feature of the August Settlement which took place on the Shanghai Stock Exchange last Tuesday, was the rubber shares although it was not as big as the two previous months. On the following day much interest was shown for rubber issues and since companies are in the position to pay interim dividends, higher rates are expected. In the general market the only transactions of interest were Ewos at 11.10 and 11.20 and New Engineering Preference at 7.25 all for cash. The news about a rise of one quarter of one cent in the Singapore rate of rubber reached the trading community at 11.00 a.m. Tuesday morning and as a result a good demand was shown for most rubber shares, particularly Kroeweek and Tebong. The total day's business exceeded 180,000 shares. The only noteworthy event in the general market, was an advance in the buying rate for International Assurance to 5.55 for September, with sellers asking 5.60. A good demand prevailed for Shanghai Lands at 27.50, but no shares were available under 28. The reason for the general improvement in the rate of most rubber stocks was the declaration of a four cent interim dividend by Kroeweek and Chemors which exercised a stimulating effect as the shares. Activity in the general market showed a slight increase; Intastoc, Shanghai Lands, Chinese Engineering and Mining were the main items of interest. The rubber share market was not very active during Saturday's half-day session. In the general market the only noteworthy transactions were China General Omnibus shares at 13.50 for cash and Shanghai New Wharf shares at 310 cash. At the beginning of this week the rubber share market showed easing tendencies. The only items of interest on the general market were Shanghai Lands at 27.50 and Ewo Cotton Mills at 11 cash.

COMMENT

PRESIDENT LINERS are LUXURY LINERS

with Roomy Decks, Outdoor Swimming Pool

Nothing that might help to make an ocean voyage most pleasant has been overlooked on the President Liners. For your comfort, every stateroom is outside, large and airy. And for your recreation, you'll find spacious public rooms, broad decks for sports... and an outdoor swimming pool. Anyone who has ever traveled on a President Liner will agree: Dull moments aren't found on these popular ships.
